The matter of a final adjournment was also a question considered at last night's conference, and it is understood that the resolution was practically agreed upon favoring adjournment on the 12th of July. STILL RUNNING THE NEGROES.

Called Upon to Protect Them.

Kansas City, June 29.—A special to The Journal from Elrene, O. T., says indications are that the government will be compelled to order out the military to protect colored citizens who have located in Cleveland county. It is asserted that notices are being served on every negro settler in that county to pack up and leave. A good many have escaped up the Canadian river and stopped in this county and the report is being circulated now that the negroes are banding together in this and King Fisher county and will go to Cleveland county to protect their colored brethren, if they have to do it, with powder and ball. The Norman Democrat, published at the county seat, came out yesterday with a long article and advised the citizens to drive the negroes out of the country, and further advocated the boycotting of any man or merchant who expressed any sympathy with colored settlers. What Happened to the Twins.

Raleigh, N. C., June 29.—(Special.)—Fielding Knott, of Granville county, who is a leading tobacco grower in the state, was the father of fine twin boys so nearly alike that it was necessary in their babyhood to mark them to distinguish them. They were four years old, and were named Grover Cleveland and Allen G. Thurman. Yesterday the twins were playing in the kitchen at their home, chasing each other around the room. The cook placed on the foor a large pot of boiling vegetables. Grover Cleveland fell into it. His agony was intense until death came to ais relief to-day.

These works employ over a thousand men when running on full time.

What Congressman Hooker Said.

Jackson, Miss., June 29.—(Special.)—In reference to the purported interview with Congressman Hooker, sent out from Washington, in which he was made to say that the parties in New York who had forced Cleveland's nomination should be left to eleet him, Colonel Hooker telegraphed that what he did say was that it was the duty of the New York democracy to unite cordially and give him the vote of that state; that if they would do this Cleveland would be elected.

Carter Will Resign.

Washington, June 29.—Thomas H. Carter, commissioner of the general land office, has found that his official duties and private interests will not permit him to serve as secretary of the republican national committee, and he will accordingly resign the position at the first meeting of the executive committee.

The National Convention of the Prohibition Party.

FIRST DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Temporary Organization. TARDY DELEGATES WILL NOT VOTE.

Sam Small Presents a Minority Report, but It Is Rejected—Appointment of Committees, Etc.

Cincinnati, Q., June 29.—Chairman Dickie, of the national committee, called the prohibition convention and introduced Dr. G. Evans, of Hedding college, Ill., who formally opened the convention with a prayer, in the course of which he entreated that rum be driven from the country and that the saloon cease to exist. A number of belated delegates sought seats after the prayer, and the Silver Lake quartet, of New York state, rendered a temperence selection while order was being restored. They received an

Rev. Dr. Lockwood, of Cincinnati, then on behalf of the city and the state of Ohio, welcomed the delegates.

Mr. Lockwood delivered his early morning address in a full dress suit. Professor Dickie responded to the address. He closed by naming ex-Governor St. John as temporary chairman. Wild cheering and the waving of flags and handkerchiefs greeted the mention of the name of ex-Governor St. John. The shouting was renewed again and again as the noted Kansan stepped forward and assumed the gavel and addressed the convention. His closing words, "What is the pleasure of the convention?" elicited the prompt response from numerous voices:

The name of A. F. Wolfenbarger, of Nebraska, for secretary, and a list of assistant secretaries and sergeants-at-arms selected by the national committee met

The First Discussion. The first fight in the convention occur red over the question of adopting the temporary rules prepared by the national nittee. These provided that only delcommittee. These provided that only delegates present should be entitled to vote. This would have deprived a number of far-off states, especially those in the extermo south a part of their representation in the temporary organization, as all their delegates could not come on account of the expense. Mr. J. B. Cranfill, of Texas, took the lead in behalf of these delegates. He said that if that rule were adopted it would leave the control of the convention in states around Cincinnati. It would cost $3,500 to send the thirty-five delegates of Texas here and they could not afford it. The temporary rules would probably be the permanent rules. He moved that each delegation have the right to cast its full vote whether all the delegates were here or not.

After a lively tilt Mr. Cranfill carried his amendment on a rising vote, and then the rules with this amendment were adopted. The roll of states was called for the announcement of committee members and the proposed to the proposed to candidate for congress. The Afterneon Session.

At the afterneon session the audience was photographed. Rev. Father Martin Honey, of St. Paul. Minn., a Catholic clergyman, then offered prayer and formally opened the session. The committee on credentials reported 972 delegates present, Louisiana and South Carolina being the only states not represented.

The presentation of the report of the committee on permanent organization recommending Colonel Ritter, of Indianapolis, for permanent chairman and Sam Small for permanent secretary and reinstating the rule voted down in the morning giving states' votes only for delegates present, was the signal for a fight. Rev. Mr. Small presented a minority report recommending that each state delegation be permitted to cast the full vote to which it is entitled. He made a vigorous speech in favor of the minority report and protested against depriving these states of their full vote as monumental injustice. The minority report was defeated by a vote of 350 to 72, and then the majority report was adopted, so that absent delegates will have no vote.

The convention then adjourned till 8 o'clock tonight.

The following national executive committee was selected! Chairman, Dickle; vice chairman, John P. St. John, of Kansas; secretary, W. C. Wardwell, New York; treasurer, Samuel D. Hastings, Wisconsin; additional members, Helen Gougar, Indiana; J. H. Tate, Tennessee; A. A. Stevens, Pennsylvania.

Notwithstanding the gossip that the headquarters would be changed to Chicago, the committee then chose New York for another four years.

Song and prayer by Rev. David Tatum. a Quaker preacher, of Chicago, opened the evening session. Colonel Ritter, of Indiana, who was selected for permanent chairman, was escorted to the platform to succeed Goveror St. John as presiding officer. Speech-making took up the time of the evening session.

HON, HENRY G. TURNER NOMINATED To Represent the Eleventh District in the Next Congress. Waycross, Ga., June 29.—(Special.)—The democratic convention of the eleventh dis-trict was held today in the opera house. The delegates began coming in since yes-terday and this morning the city was thronged with enthusiastic Turnerites. Early this morning a caucus was held by the Turner club and it was decided to nominate Mr. Turner by acclamation. The convention was called to order by Hon. C. R. Pendleton, who announced that the first business before the convention was the election of a temporary chairman and secretary. C. R. Pendleton was elected chairman and A. L. Ryals secretary, with J. S. Sharp and J. W. Hanlin assistants. The roll was then called and every county responded. Committees of five each were then appointed on credentials and on rules of permanent or ganization. The latter reported as follows:

Judge Turner Nominated.

Editor McCook ascended the platform amid great applause, and in eloquent terms nominated Mr. Turner.

Mr. Lawrence, of Camden, addressed the convention. He said that the delegates from Camden and Charlton counties recognized that Turner was the choice of the convention, and they had resolved not to offer the name of Spencer R. Atkins, and as an expression of their high regard for Mr. Turner, he moved that the nomination of the Hon. H. G. Turner be made unanimous. (Great applause.) Judge Turner Nominated. mous. (Great applause.)

Editor McCook then moved that the rules be suspended and that Mr. Turner be nominated by acclamation.

The motion was seconded and carried

The motion was seconded and carried unanimously.

A committee of five composed of the following gentlemen was appointed to notify Mr. Turner of his nominaton and ask his acceptance of the same: E. P. Denmark, J. S. Sharp, C. L. Holmes, J. C. Lehman and B. H. Patterson. After the appointment of the foregoing committee the audience began calling for speeches from different individuals. Griffin, of Lowndes; Holmes, of Laurens, and Denmark indulged in a few remarks. Mr. Dunwoody, of Brunswick, was next called. He arose and explained that he was not in the convention, but a voice from the rear called out: "But you are in it now." Mr. Dunwoody spoke for fifteen minutes. He said that he could say nothing derogatory of either Turner or Atkinson and now that the people had expressed themselves in favor of Turner, Mr. Atkinson would be found working in the democratic ranks earnestly and conscientiously for the best interest of the party.

and conscientiously for the best interest of the party.

Some discussion arose as to the manner of appointing the members of the new executive committee. Lawrence, of Camden, thought the delegates should be allowed to name their representatives, but a motion put by Mr. Pendleton, of Valdosta, prevailed, which authorized the chair to name the members. The convention then took a recess until half-past 2 o'clock.

The afternoon session was devoted to the passing of resolutions, and the appointment of a new executive and campaign committee, after which the meeting adjourned sine die.

Mr. Turner Accepts.

Mr. Turner Accepts. A telegram was sent to Mr. Turner apprising him of his nomination. He answered as follows:

"I am deeply sensible of the great honor done me by the convention and the district, and of the generous services of my friends."

on the 3d of August.

Savannah, Ga., June 29.—(Special.)—The democratic congressional convention of the first district will meet in Savannah on Wednesday, August 3d. This was the decision of the executive committee at its meeting today. Only four cut of the ten counties were represented. Those present were Chairman Ryals, of Chatham; R. W. Grubb, of McIntosh; John Morrison, of Bryan, and Mr. Williams, of Emmuel.

Regarding the third party, Grubb declared

Enanuel.

Regarding the third party, Grubb declared thad no following at all in McIntosh. Morrison was confident that it could be easily whipped out in Bryan. Mr. Williams thought it would take hard work to down it in Emanuel. Some democrats there, he said, believe there are as many third party men in Emanuel as democrate. He doubts this, and thinks if speakers are sent there to create some entusiasm, the county will come up all right for Lester. No one was present and nothing was heard at all from the strongest third party counties, such as Bulloch and Tatinal.

THREATS MADE AGAINST THE PRINCE.

APPEARING IN HIS OFFICIAL ORGAN.

The German Press Comment on the Ac tion of the Government-Bismarck's Opinion of Von Caprivi.

Berlin, June 29.-The action of the government in abandoning its attitude of reserve toward Prince Bismarck as evidenced by threats made in the official North German Gazette has caused a most decided sensation throughout the empire and further developments are awaited with great interest. The Tagblatt says:

The die is cast. Prince Bismarck has attained the object for which he has striven during the last two years and has forced the government to take up the gauntiet he has so often thrown at its feet. But to attain this Prince Bismarck has been obliged to abandon the role of an anonymous journalist. He has personally taken his place in the breach. With the full weight of his historic name he exposes chancellor you caprivite the eyes of exposes Chancellor von Caprivi to the eyes of eign nations and discredits him by means aching hearts, but at the same time they will admit that the government acts in self-de-fense when it resolves to no longer expose itself to the poisoned arrow of its adversary. Chancellor von Caprivi's question whether Prince Bismarck's conduct is patriotic will be answered by a majority of the nation with a sorrowful but decided negative. Out and out the Bismarckians may take the part of the prince against the government, but it is impossible to believe that the pronunciamento of this civilian Wallenstein will be crowned

A single false step on the part of the government in the contest now openly embarked upon may lead to a tragedy. No matter what the opinion about Bismarck may be, it will not be a Bismarck tragedy. Continuing the paper says: "We merely hope the government will not execute its threat to take action against German unity."

The National Zietung says it trusts the dispute will soon be ended. It assumes that Prince Bismarck's attitude is influenced by resentment at the emperor of Austria for refusing him an audience when he was in Vienna to attend Count Herbert von Bismarck's wedding. The National Zeitung then appeals to Prince Bismarck's patriotism to end what it terms a regretable political spectacle. The language of Prince Bismarck which has apparently waked the government up to a determination to prosecute him appears in an interview published in the West Deutche Allgemeine Zeitung, the prince's new organ in Cologne. The passages in this interview that are especially offensive to Emperor William charge him, after the failure of his visit to the czar at Narva, with assenting to Chancellor von Caprivi's greatest error, the precipitate breaking of every link that bound Germany and Russia.

According to Bismarck, the emperor thought his personal amiability would win the Russians. Intermediaries, possibly appointed for the purpose, brought to the ears of the emperor, even before he left St. Petersburg, remarks that had been made by members of the czar's circle which left no doubt of the political failure of his visit.

Under these circumstances, the emper or's immediate journey to England, followed by East African treaties, assume the aspect of a demonstration against Russia. These incidents were succeeded by a policy of friendliness towards the Poles which was still more galling to the czar. No graver change in the Ger man policy could have been adopted. It showed to Russia on the political horizon a Polish legion in the event of war, and, in the event of Russian defeat, a new kingdom of Poland. This naturally resulted in the visit of the French fleet to Cronstadt. The appointment of a Polish bishop at Posen was also a mistake in internal and external policy.

In corrse of the interview, Bismarck farther said

When I read General Von Caprivi's first speeches, as chancellor, I saw that I had been entirely deceived in my estimate of him, a thing that seldom happened to me. I always liked him until then. I thought him firm and sincere, and generally reticent. I never recommended General von Caprivi to the position of chancellor. I had once spoken to the emperor about him as suitable for the position of Prussian prime minister, at some future period. This was long before the emperor demanded, point blank, that I ask to be relieved from office, which I refused to do, offering passive resistance to the demand. The emperor had been in secret negotiations with Von Caprivi, meanwhile keeping me away from Berlin under pretext of sparing my health, but, really, in order to keep me from actual contact with the political situation."

The Vossicshe Zeitung, commenting upon the article in The North German Gazette, and the threat contained therein to publish certain documents to show that Bismarck once strongly supported the projects he now condemns, says the article shows it is possible for all truth to be put aside, and the crushing of Prince Bismarck to be undertaken.

London, June 29.—Henry M. Stanley, who is to stand for one of the London constituencies in the liberal unionist interest is encountering trouble in his electioneering. Today the famous explorer, accompanied by his wife, addressed a political meeting at Lambeth. The proceedings throughout were marked by the most uproarious conduct on the part of a number of those present, who continually interrupted him during the course of his address with irrelevant remarks and irritating queries.

When the speaker denounced anarchism and socialism as opposed to law, order and morality, he was greeted with derisive yells and loud cries of "How about King Coffee?" "How many niggers did you kill?" The disturbers then set up wild cheers for Gladstone, drowning Stanley's voice and interrupting him so that it was with much difficulty that he was able to proceed with his London, June 29.-Henry M. She Then Covers His Body with Brush, to

Chattanooga, Tevn., June 29.—(Special.)—
Word has just reached the city of a tragic crime enacted in Georgia, just beyond the Tennessee line, in Walker county. Sam Looney and wife quarreled Tuesday, just before retiring. Both started for the old army musket, the wife beating the husband to the weapon. As she raised the piece, he turned his head. Crazed with anger, the wife fired, and the man recled from the room and dropped dead as he reached the yard, his head filled with shot. After the shooting the woman went to bed. All night and all today the body of the man lay untouched. The residents of the vicinity refused to remove the body before the coroner arrived. Communication with the officials being difficult, the corpse remained where it had fallen for twenty-four hours. This afternoon the woman covered the body with brush, ramarking, "The hogs might eat it before the coroner comes, and that would not be right." Guard It from the Hogs.

A HIGHWAY ROBBER ARRESTED.

A Drunken Man Robbed of His Effects by Negroes.

Griffin, Ga., June 29.—(Special.)—The police did a clever piece of detective work today and recovered two watches and $12 in cash for a gentleman who was robbed of them last night. When the train from Atlanta, at 9 o'clock, reached Griffin, Mr. G. W. Clark, of Stockbridge, got off in an excited condition and enlisted the services of Charles Taylor, a negro, to secure him a horse and buggy to make the trip to Stockbridge. Mr. Clark waited in the saloon, and during Taylor's absence fell asleep, and was found by Taylor in this condition, who thought it would be an easy matter to lift Mr. Clark's watches and cash, which he did. The matter was reported to Chief Shackelford this morning, and the whole force went to work on the case, and tonight landed Taylor behind the bars on the charge of highway robbery. Other arrests may follow, but it is considered best now to withhold the suspects.

Charleston, W. Va., June 29.—Misses Gertrude Hager and Lizzie Spears are two of the handsomest young ladies in the section of Lincoln county in which they live. The long continued contest between them for social preference led to bitter enmity, and Miss Spears, having recently made several conquests by her superior charms, her rival, Miss Hager, could stand in no longer, and one day last week challenged the object of her hatred to mortal combat and fired five shots at her. She proved a bad marksman and none of the shots took effect. Miss Spears was before Justice Smith the day following for a warrant to restrain her enemy from further violence, and the end is not yet.

Cookeville, Tenn., June 29.—(Special.)— Master Charley Shanks, the fourteen-yearold son of our townsman, S. R. Shanks, was out on one of his frequent hunting expeditions, about two miles south of town, when a large, ferocious looking animal suddenly bounded out of a dense thicket and charged down on our young hunter and his dog. With one blow of his paw it tumbled the faithful canine, and doubtless would have as summarily disposed of Master Charley had not he taken to his heels. Being somewhat frightened, and wishing to make a more thorough search for the animal, which he believed to be a panther, our young Nimrod set sail for home in quest of reinforcements. A thorough search, however, failed to discover the strange animal, which was doubtless a panther. in Tennessee.

TOM LILLIARD HANGED TO A BRIDGE.

Three Negroes in Texas Confess an Awful Crime and They Are Shot to Death, Other Crimes.

Mashville, June 29.—A special from Mur-freesboro, Tenn., confirms the rumor of the lynching of the negro rapist, Tom Lilliard, at Woodbury. Last night about 11 o'clock a mob, well organized and orderly, went to Woodbury jail, where Lilliard was con-fined, and demanded the keys from the jail. fined, and demanded the keys from the jail-er. Meeting with no resistance, they so-cured their man and taking him to the bridge over Stone river hanged him there-from. His neck was broken and he died without a struggle.

Yesterday afternoon a Miss McKnight had gone to a spring in a large wooded lot some distance from her home, and as she was returning she was met by a nineteen-year-old negro named Tom Lillard, who without a word seized her and dragged her into a clump of bushes. Miss McKnight resisted with all her strength, but was almost reconsideration. resisted with all her strength, but was almost powerless in the brute's clutches. After a terrible struggle he released her and like a hound fled to a cornfield three hundred yards away and concealed himself. The victim, whose screams had not been heard, succeeded in dragging herself to a neighbor's house. Several men quickly gathered and found Lillard in the field. When confronted by Miss McKnight he confessed his crime, his evenes being that he thought confronted by Miss McKnight he confessed his crime, his excuse being that he thought he would never be found out. He was placed in jail at Woodbury, where there was great indignation manifested all day. Men were gathering in the town all the afternoon and a telephone message received just before the office closed said that the crowd was only waiting for nightfall and that Lillard would surely be hanged before morning.

Galveston, June 29.—A dispatch from Colmes's Mill says that three negroes-Prince Wood, Tom Smith and Henry Gaines—arrested Friday for outraging three white women near Spurgis, confessed to having committed the crime. After the confession ten men were deputized to convey the negroes to Woodville jail. They started with them on Friday afternoon. When about a mile from Spurgis fifty masked and armed men demanded the release of the negroes, emphasizing their demand by levelling their guns upon the guards. The guards were totate of the negroes. The deputies returned to the spot and found the bodies of the three negroes riddled with bullets. Prince Woods, leader of the negroes, was a former convict.

Fort Worth, Tex., June 29.—(Special.)—
Officer Lee Walker was murdered by a gang of negro toughs at 1 o'clock this morning. One of the murderers was captured. A mob made a rush but failed to get him. If the others are captured to night they will be lynched.

A Murderous Father.

Charlotte, N. C., June 29.—(Special.)—A horrible tragedy occurred about nine miles from Lumberton yesterday, which resulted in the serious if not fatal injury of a family of five children, aged from one to nine years. Frank Meares returned from town about noon, where he had been shopping, and finding his wife sick in bed, seized a scantling and began to beat his children, esclaring his intention to kill them all. Mrs. Meares seized her infant, fied from the house, but not before he had dealt the latter one or two blows. He went to Lumberton, and is now in custody. Three of the children cannot possibly live, as their skulls are nearly shattered from the deadly blows of their inhuman father.

looked for. All this activity means much for the Central City, especially as it is believed that the consolidated companies will extend their operations, and not only develop suburban lands, but, also, take a hand in the development of the agricultural interests of Bibb county.

Just there they show their wisdom, and their reasons given why they contemplate such a step proves that there is something more in the head of the combination than the mere making of money. The men who are working these scheme are among the best and most public spirited of Macon's citizens, and they fully understand that cities depend, to a great extent, upon the county. They believe, and rightly, that before Macon can prosper to the fullest extent, the vast acreage of Bibb county, of which the possibilities are as yet unknown, must be improved and made to yield that return which makes rich men out of farmers.

More capital is needed on the farmers

More capital is needed on the farms, they say, in order that lands may be developed, and more practical, general farming must be done. With this end in view, and so that Macon may reap the profits from an increased agricultural output, these men are preparing to lay before the outside world the resources of Bibb county, and the wealth that now lies hidden in her soil.

Mrs. Smith, who was a Miss Helen Wright, was married last November, and since that time has lived with her husband in Macon. During a brief residence she has made many friends. She was taken ill a few weeks ago, but no great alarm was felt; but, on Thursday last, Mr. Smith was summoned to her bedside, and this morning the sad news was borne over the wires to friends in this city.

A great wave of affectionate sympathy goes out to the young husband, and this great trouble that has come upon him binds him closer to the friends he has made.

Street Rallroad Extension

Street car extension and improvement is now more than ever the order of the day in Macon. The Metropolitan street car system, the Consolidated and the Macon and Indian Springs were all before the city council last night with petitions for an extension of franchise. The Metropolitan and the Consolidated both propose to run to Central City park and the Consolidated has purchased five thousand dollars' worth of property in the city on which to erect a power plant and car sheds. Work on all these improvements and on the new line will commence at once.

Closing of the Schools.

All the county schools outside of Macon.

All the county schools outside of Macon, where closing is over, have closed their doors for the term today. A committee from the board of education visited the different schools today. At many of the principal schools interesting exercises were held, so as to give parents and patrons an opportunity of judging of the work that has been done during the past year. Walden High school closes tomorrow night.

Fulton County to Select Her Delegates for The senatorial district executive commit-tee has met and called a convention to nominate a senator from this district.

The senatorial district seed as convention to nominate a senator from this district.

That convention has been called to meet in Atlanta July 9th.

The other counties have already appointed delegates to this nominating convention and now Fulton county is preparing to select her delegates.

There are two executive committees in Fulton county politics as is very well known to every one at all familiar with Fulton county politics just at this period. One of these committees is known as the new committee and the other as the old, or "regular old" committee, the former being a division from the old committee that sprang out of recent issues.

Now, this new committee of which Mr. Morris Brandon is chairman, has been called to meet today to take steps to send delegates to the senatorial convention.

Here is the president's call:
There will be a meeting of the democratic executive committee of Fulton county, Georgia, in the city courtroom at 3 o'clock, p. m., on Thursday, the 30th day of June, instant, for the purpose of taking appropriate action looking to the selection of a democratic candidate to represent this the thirty-fifth senatorial district in the next general assembly of the state of Georgia, and to transact such further business as may be deemed proper. The members of the committee will please take notice and be on hand promptly at the place and time above stated.

MORRIS BRANDON, Chairman.

CLARENCE E. MOORE, Secretary.

Mr. Walter R. Brown, president of the old committee in Fulton county, will probably call a meeting of his committee for the same purpose soon. The two committees, while they both claim to be the regularly established executive committee of the county, seem to have no differences when it comes to this senatorial race and it is very probable that their action in this matter at least will be harmonious and smooth throughout.

Hod. Steve Clay, of Cobb county, the only candidate for the senate up to date.

Mr. Clay was in Atlanta yesterday, and speaking of the race, said:

"There was never a time when union of Atlanta democrate was more desired than Atlanta democrats was more desired than now for the g d of the party and the safety of its i at purposes. They were never confronted by a sterner duty to stand firmly together than now."

Carrollton, Ga., June 29.—(Special.)—A pitiful story comes from Villa Rica. Mr. Tom Bell is the name of a good, clever, illiterate farmer who lives two miles east of Villa Rica, in Douglas county. Mr. Bell has allied himself with the people's party, hoping to be cured of all the ills that inflict mankind. He can't read nor write, but his wife is more fortunate than himself. but his wife is more fortunate than himself and is a good reader. Mrs. Bell, during every spare interval, day and night, for the past six months, has read the new party every spare interval, day and night, for the past six months, has read the new party papers to her illiterate husband and she has become very much infatuated with the doctrine herself. Of late she has talked it to her neighbors by day and dreamed of it and talked it in her sleep by night. About a week ago Mrs. Bell's mind became so overwhelmed with the new doctrines that she went crazy, and it has taken several people to keep her from doing herself bodily damage. She talks from morning till night about Tom Watson, and at intervals at night she calls his name at the top of her voice. She says when she leaves this world of trouble and sorrow she wants to go to Tom Watson. The unfortunate lady will be tried for lunacy at Douglasville today. Dr. J. T. Gilmer, her family physician, says she is in a precarious condition.

ESCAPE OF A CONVICTED MURDERER.

one of the Larkin Nix Lynchers Is Helped Out of Jall.

Camilla, Ga., June 29.—(Special.)—A pe-culiar jail delivery took place from the jail at this place last night about 8 o'clock. The jail is a brick building, enclosing the cells. There are two keys. One is kept by the sheriff, G. W. Swindle, and the other by the jailer, A. P. Hilliard. There were five prisoners confined in the jail yesterday. This morning there are only four, and Barney White, who was found guilty of the murder of Larkin Nix at the last term of the court, is gone.

The Prisoners Won't Talk. Your correspondent undertook to interview the prisoners this morning, but could get nothing out of them. More than that, they did not care to talk about it, and said that. White told them about 8 o'clock that he was going to pray that the jail doors would open. A few minutes later a tap was heard at the window. The outside door was opened. It took only a moment to work the combination, if it was on, and White was put outside a free man to go where he pleased. The case has a peculiar aspect about it. Bob Clark's Words, Bob Clark, one of the prisoners, when asked for his opinion, replied that he did not care to tell anything, but that he was not under any obligations not to do so. White was one of the lynchers of old man Larkin Nix, and the only one who was found guilty, and is a young man, and for that reason has the sympathy of a great many people who believe that he is more sinned against than sinning.

His Georgia Friends Want Him for Vice

ENDORSED BY THE GEORGIA DELEGATES.

The Third Party Delegations from Georgia, Florida and North Carolina Have Gone Out to Omaha.

Third party headquarters were resplendent with many colored badges, sunburned faces, linen dusters, gripsacks and looks of weariness yesterday. All these resplendent features were sup plied by third party delegates bound for Omaha, and hailing from Florida, North Carolina and Georgia. The delegates gravitated around the third headquarters and the streets were full of them. The Georgia delegates were present in full force, they coming on every train. The first place they sought was third party headquarters, where they were given happy smiles, warm handclasps and many ap proving pats on the back. Colonel Mel Branch, radiant, sunburned good-humored, ready to talk politics or tell a good story, came in early and supplied a vast amount of enthusiasm. He was in his element. He has been to conventions before, many a time, and is as much at home in a crowded convention hall as he is down at his pretty "Berzelia."

Gubernatorial Possibility C. Horace Elington was present, and he was full of evhusiasm of a quiet sort that did not find outward expression. He groomed the delegates from his experience at the St. Louis convention of February 22d, and talked

Dr. H. L. Nance, of Gainesville, one of the prophets of the new movement, was among the most prominent of the delegates He regaled a big circle of delegates by a dissertation upon the mixed condition of politics in the ninth, but declared himself unable to tell who would arise out of the situation triumphant. He believed Winn would be the man. He said it was possible that other candidates would enter the already crowded race track. He named Hon. J. W. Robertson, of Haber-sham, as one of the possible democratic in the race, and who has run frequently but has never come first under the was present, and said that he believed chances for nomination were excellent. He had been defeated before, but now he be-lieved himself to be the logical candidate, and felt sure of the third party nomination for congress.

It will be remembered that he has always been an independent candidate and fought the alliance which elected Winn.

Then Brother J. L. Chupp, of DeKalb, who has been charged with coveting way the third party was going to do up the old parties in the fall elections.

Uncle Jimmie Carmichael, of Coweta, was circulating among the delegates. He wore one of the tri-colored badges of the third party. The badges worn by the Georgia delegates are quite gaudy, and were designed by Mr. A. G. Daniel.

They are red, white and blue, and are fringed with gilt. Each badge bears the words, "Delegate from Georgia, People's Party National Convention, Omaha, July 4th." One of these badges was proudly disport ed on the breast of each convention dele

The Men from Florida.

The Florida delegates mingled with the Georgia delegates like brothers. They arrived in the city yesterday morning, dusty and badgeless. Clever Mr. Daniel quickly perceived the omission and hastened to supply the deficiency. He ordered badges for the entire party of Floridians. The badges were of a yellow, orange color, and bore the inscription, "Florida Delegate to Omaha, People's Party National Convention."

One delegate wanted an alligator on his

The North Carolina delegation passed

The North Carolina.

The North Carolina delegation passed through the city during the day, stopping a few hours. They left at 4:10 o'clock on the Georgia Pacific road.

The delegates all expressed themselves as feeling deeply the loss of Colonel Polk, the great leader of the movement. Now that the convention has come they say that his loss is felt even more keenly.

Among the delegates was Mr. J. W. Denmark, of the fourth district. He is a sonin-law of Colonel Polk.

The full delegation from North Carolina is as follows: First district—M. G. Bryan, Robert White, J. C. Andrews, J. M. Bateman. Second district—C. L. Taylor, J. M. Catchings. Third district—Dr. V. N. Sewell. Fourth district—S. O. Wilson, J. F. Bell, D. H. Gill, G. W. Smith, Eli Goodwin, J. W. Denmark, W. H. Revis. Fifth district—Dr. A. J. Dolby, T. J. Oldham, W. G. Smith, W. R. Lindsey. Sixth district—W. H. Oldham. Seventh district—A. C. Shuford. Eighth district—W. W. Tengue, A. C. Thompson, G. E. Hunt. Ninth district—T. B. Long.

The delegates say that if Colonel Polk had lived there is no doubt but that he would have been nominated for president. The talk of Colonel Peek for vice president don't go much. Colonel Peek don't want an empty honor. He wants something that will materialize. No matter how strong his zeal for the success of the new movement Colonel Peek don't want to be a lamb to be slaughtered.

A Receiver Appointed.

A Receiver Appointed.

Mr. H. M. Patty was yesterday appointed receiver for F. M. Hight & Co.

The appointment was made at the instance of Mr. F. M. Hight, who filed a petition to the effect that his partner, E. K. Chamberlain, was in possession of the assets of the company and refused to make satisfactory statement to the plaintiff.

It was alleged in the petition that the parties to the suit agreed in 1888 to form a partnership for the introduction of a new electrical patent in the southern states. According to the terms of the agreement the petitioner was to put into the enterprise the sum of $2,500 in cash towards paying for the stock and $2,500 to be paid during the first year. Mr. Chamberfain, by reason of his superior knowledge and experience, was to manage the affairs, with his office located in Atlanta. The proceeds arising from the business were to be deposited in one of the local banks, and if there was any surplus after paying the legitimate debts of the company, it was to be applied to the account of the Ruttan-Smeal Company, from which the appliances were bought.

The plaintiff says that he paid the amount as agreed, and also advanced $250 to pay the immediate expenses of the office; that Mr. Chamberlain went to work and during the first year secured contracts to the amount of $58,820. The work of

When the sale occurred F. M. Hight & Co. When the sale occurred F. M. Hight & Co. were owing, for their stock, several thousand dollars. Before the conveyance was made they had executed thirty-five thousand one hundred and fifty-eight dollars' worth of their contracts. From this amount it was charged that E. K. Chamberlain had received in eash and notes the sum of $18,075, and that the petitioner had received only $3,100 of that amount.

Mr. Hight alleges that he has frequently approached his partner and besought him for a statement of transactions, but that his partner has refused to give him any satisfaction. He says Mr. Chamberlain is in possession of the books, the notes and accounts.

The petitioner, therefore, prayed for a receiver to be appointed by the court to take possession of the books and assets belonging to F. M. Hight & Co., and that the partnership, which had never been dissolved, be formally annulled by the court.

Mr. H. M. Patty was appointed temporary receiver, pending a fuller hearing of the case before his honor Judge Richard H. Clark the 10th of July.

Crippled for a Dime.

Eugenia Barrett, a little boy with a girl's name, yesterday brought suit against the Consolidated Street Railway Company through his next best friend, Lizzle Barry, for the sum of $10,000.

The little fellow is only nine years old and the petition alleges that he was going home on the night of the 24th of June when it became hecessary for him to cross the line running between the Equitable building and Inman Park. He was crossing the track, the petition alleges, when he dropped a dime out of his pocket, and stooping down to look for it in the dark, he was struck by a car that came upon him unexpectedly and his feet were crushed in addition to other injuries sustained.

It is charged that no signal or warning tion to other injuries sustained.

It is charged that no signal or warning was given by the motorman, and that the car was running at a rate considerably in excess of the statutory limit. The little fellow, the petition alleges, is blind in one of his eyes, and since the accident has been a great sufferer from his injuries.

A Woman with One Leg. The case of Lizzie Nelson against the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad was tried before Judge Westmoreland road was tried before Judge Westmoreland yesterday.

Before the case was opened, however, a motion was made by the attorneys for the road to continue it for the term, on the ground that the road was in the hands of the receiver, and they were not authorized to represent him. The motion was resisted by the plaintiff's attorneys, on the ground that it made no difference as to the railroad's liability whether it was in the hands of the receiver or not, and they were willing to take their chances with a judgment. The court adopted the plaintiff's theory, and the testimony in the case was commenced.

and the testimony in the case was commenced.

Lizzie set out in her petition that she was a passenger in one of the defendant's coaches, and, when the engine stopped at the railroad shops, she rose to get off. Before she stepped to the ground, however, the car started, and she was thrown violently under the wheels. One of her limbs was crushed in the accident, and for mouths she lingered in her sufferings, thinking that issue from which was called to damages.

He Lost a Child.

The city, a few months ago, was having some improvements made in the neighborhood of his house, at the corner of Lowe and Magnolia streets. A large pile of sand, he alleges, was thrown up from the sewer bottom, in breathing distance of the plaintiff's home, and was allowed to remain there by the city authorities. It tainted the atmosphere, and rendered it so impure, he says, that his child was taken sick from the effects, and died within a few days.

The wife was also taken sick, and was ill for two months.

ANOTHER SECRET MARRIAGE.

Mr. Robert Evans and Miss Ora Clarke Are

ceeds arising from the business were to be deposited in one of the local banks, and if there was any surplus after paying the legitimate debts of the company, it was to be applied to the account of the Ruttan-Smeal Company, from which the appliances were bought.

The plaintiff says that he paid the amount as agreed, and also advanced $250 to pay the immediate expenses of the office; that Mr. Chamberlain went to work and during the first year secured contracts to the amount of $58,820. The work of carrying out the contracts whas partially executed by F. M. Hight & Co., when the business was sold out to the Ruttan Many. son of Dr. John Clarke, one of the best known and most popular old gentlemen in this section. She has only two children, the other being Miss Hattie, an efficient teacher in the public schools.

Mr. Evans was formerly with the Singer Sewing Machine Company here. He and Miss Ora became quite friendly and this feeling soor ripened into a warmer one of love. She was young, being not yet fifteen years of age, and an open marriage was out of the question. Mr. Evans was going away to his home in North Carolina and the young people decided to settle the matter at once. A license was procured and the marriage took place. They determined to keep it a secret for a year, at the expiration of which time the groom was to return and claim his bride.

The secret was well kept until Friday last, when a friend of Mrs. Clerke's discovered the fact and told her of it. Mr. Evans will probably return much sooner than he first expected.

The Comptroller General Says the Rate Will Be Reduced.

NCREASED RETURNS MAKE IT FEASIBLE.

The Increase Likely to Be Forty Millions Largely from Personal Property and Town and City Realty.

The people of Georgia will be glad to hear that taxes will be lower this year. This statement is made by the highest au-thority upon information which appears to be reliable.

"We are going to reduce taxes this year," we are going to reduce taxes in year, said Comptroller General Wright yesterday in speaking of the returns now being made. "If information I get from the equalizers is correct there will be a substantial increase in the return. I have heard from

Where the Increase Comes From.

"While the tax rate will be lower to everybody the assessment is higher to only a few. The masses of the people will pay upon little, if any, more than usual, and will pay at a lower rate.

"The increase comes mainly from two sources, from personal property which has been hiding out and now seeks the light in anticipation of the investigation of the equalizers, and from town and city renty, which has nearly always shown an increase. The real estate outside of the towns will not show much increase.

"Among those items that will swell the returns of personal property are fertilizer notes held by merchants and cotton held in warehouses as security for advances. The sales of fertilizers amount to nearly five million dollars, and for almost all of the goods notes are given. The merchant has bought on time from the factory and has sold on time to the farmer. He takes the farmers' notes and places them by the side of his own notes as collateral in the hands of the manufacturer, who may reside in another state, under the impression that as the notes are in another state, or at least in another county, they are not taxable at home, the merchant has often refrained from returning them. It is better understood that this personal property is taxable home, the merchant has often refrained from returning them. It is better understood that this personal property is taxable at the home of the owner, no matter where the notes may be hypothecated, and the class of property is better returned. In the case of cotton held against advances, the owner, thinking he has gotten all out of it through the advance, does not return it in many cases, but as a matter of fact he is the owner and should pay tax on it. This class of personal property is better returned than ever."

A FREE TRIP

SARATOGA, NEW YORK, To the National Educational Association.

The above heading is not intended as a catch, but means just what it says. The lowest rate that will be made by any road to Saratoga to the National Educational Association is $27.70, which is certainly a very great inducement, but we have perfected arrangements with the great Richmond and Danville railroad, the best equipped and only direct line to Washington City, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Saratoga, to carry specially conducted parties from Atlanta to Saratoga from the 5th to the 12th of July, and every person purchasing and paying for a set of the AMERICANIZED ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA in the best binding, which is only $35, will be given a first-class ticket from Atlanta, Ga., to Saratoga, N. Y., and return, FREE.

Now, you do not need to be told that this is the greatest bargain ever offered you. The like was never heard of before, and we don't believe ever will be again. Our only object in doing this is to advertise our Encyclopaedia and put it into at least 1,000 homes in the southern states within the next two weeks.

The first stop going, will be at Washington City, where party will be received by President Harrison, and after taking in the sights of Washington City, will go on to New York via the Pennsylvania railroad, the finest system of railroads in the world, and from New York to Saratoga over the West Shore railroad, which runs along the Hudson river. Returning, parties can come by all rail, or have an all day steamboat ride down the Hudson river from Albany to New York, and from New York to Baltimore by rail, and from Baltimore by the York River steamship line, on fine ocean steamers, 200 miles down the Chesapeake bay to Richmond. Va., and from there by rail to Atlanta.

It would be impossible to select a more desirable route. There is but one Washington, one New York, and only one Hudson river, any one of which is worth more than all the attractions offered by any other route.

Every arrangement will be made for cheap rates at the hotels, and for the comfort of the passengers, so that the trip cannot be anything but one of continued pleasure from beginning to end, and as we will charter Pullman cars, there will be no crowding, and can get through to New York at about one-half the regular sleeping car rates. Our parties will be in charge of such persons as Major W. F. Slaton, superintendent of Atlanta public schools; Mrs. Solomon Palmer, of Alabama; Captain Eugene Harrell, of North Carolina; Major J. H. Shinn, of Arkansas; J. R. Preston, of Mississippi, and F. L. Kern, of Florida, and many other prominent educators over the south.

Remember, we offer a set of the AMERICANIZED EN-CYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA in best binding at the regular price, $35, and give every one purchasing a set between now and the 8th of July, a first-class railroad ticket from Atlanta to Saratoga, N. Y., and return, FREE.

Tickets can be had on and after July 5th, and will be good until August 15th, and longer if desired. Parties wishing to leave Atlanta before the 8th, can do so, as tickets will be good on any train. For full particulars call on or write to our Public Roads.

There is a movement on foot for estab-ishing a read department at the world's lar, and it is to be hoped that it will be Strange as it may seem there subject on which our people need lightenment than on that of good We have become so accustomed onds. We have become so account and pad roads—having inherited them and pad not grown up with them-that we do not preciate what a drawback they are in every way, nor the burdensome tax that impose on the resources of the remarkable thing about it is that while the people are ready and anxious to se taxes on themselves to build railmeds, they permit the natural and necesfeeders to these lines to lie in a of almost total neglect. Where an ttempt is made to keep these feeders in order, the result is, in many instances, worse than neglect. The efficiency of railways would be doubled if the condition of the country roads were such as to make them prompt and ready feedare of the steam lines.

In some portions of the south, the roads, bad as they are, are better than those in many part of the northern and middlewestern states. There is a little consotion in this fact, but not much. In stormy weather, the bottom drops out f the whole concern from one end of republic to the other, and the town people, as well as the country people, are le the victims of a condition of affairs that exists in no other civilized

The expense of bad roads to the farmer practically incalculable. The disadage is so prodigious that It is a wonder the people have tolerated the situation with such dogged patience. A good market road is as important to the people both consumers and producers—as a railway, and it is to be hoped that the a akening interest in the matter which is conservable in all parts of the country will lead to substantial results.

Congressman Turner's Renomination renomination by acclamation of the Hon. Henry G. Turner in the eleventh district is a deserved tribute to a distinhed Georgian whose record during is six terms in congress speaks for itself. The reapportionment practically threw Mr. Turner into a new district, composed of only three of the counties of the old det and a large number of new counties more counties than any other disdistrict there are many voters who never any political or personal contact with Mr. Turner in the past. He was a nger to many of them. except in so far as they knew him by reputation as a

Under the circumstances, his renomination is significant. It shows that the orats of Georgia appreciate loyalty and ability. They know a good man and strong man when they see him, and do not expect him to use any of the arts of the demagogue to catch their votes. Mr. Turner fairly and squarely represents the democracy, and he has his renomination in a manly way that will go far towards rolling up a good majority for him on election day.

The Erring Brethren. On every side we hear it said that the third party movement is larger in numbers and more serious in character than the democrats have any idea of. These amors and statements are growing in me every day, and they come mainly from democrats who have been through country districts and have had opporhies to investigate the situation.

Mal ing due allowance for such exaggerations as naturally belong to such rumors, he fart remains that the democrats of orgi, at the outset of the campaign, will have to face the threat of a very serious i ivision. Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire, and in matters of this kind it is safer to magnify the strength of probable or possible oppo-

Heretofore the Georgia democracy has had the good fortune to escape the inter-nal divisions which have been visited on Virginia, South Carolina and some other southern states. This has been due mainly to good management and to the sturdy common sense of the democratic roters. The party leaders and newspapers, except in a few, a very few, ines, have agreed to permit a large of opinion, and they have met every tendency toward disorganization with the wisdom, justice and moderation which wlong to the insignia of the state. They have manifested a tolerance as large as it was wise, and in this way they have effectually put down independentism in all its forms, and they smothered every effort of extremists to create division in caling with a larger and more serious canent than any that has occurred war. How shall it th? It, is not a movement or even its imporary defeat, but it is to abarrassing affair to halting, turning or wavering; but in the midst of it all, the question which we have presented will be uppermost in the minds of thoughtful democrats.

The third party movement, in the fac of force bill legislation, may melt away and disappear, and that which threaten olesome and embarrassing may have no place in the campaign. This, i seems to us, ought to be the natural and reasonable solution of the matter. But if the movement shall resist this natura settlement, will it be best to deal with those who have deserted and who are deserting the party as other opponent are dealt with, or as erring brethren who are to be urged to return to the fold?

Parties are figuratively composed of armies, but they have no method of enforcing the discipline so necessary to bodies that are to engage in conflicts. The democratic party exists only through the will and desire of those who have been attracted to its organization; it cannot compel or enforce obedience. We do not pretend to answer in any authoritative way the inquiry we have made. It is a suggestion merely. The democrats who have quit the party, or who propose to quit, are needed in the organization. They are needed now and they will be needed hereafter. The party in this campaign must present a solid front to the republican wreckers and sectionalists who have renewed their attack on the south and its state governments in the interest of negro rule.

We think, therefore, that the third party men in Georgia and all through the south should be appealed to to renew their allegiance to the only party that has for one of its purposes the correction and abolition of the evils and abuses of which they complain.

How About Illinois?

The activity among the republicans Illinois is justified by the situation. A glance at the following republican majorities for the past five presidential elections will be of interest:

1872 Grant had..... And in 1890 the democratic candidate for supreme judge got a majority of 9,947, and Palmer was elected United States

The Atlanta Way.

Mr. Richard H. Edmonds, recently of The Manufacturers' Record, writes a letter to The Baltimore News, in which he urges his readers to profit by the example of Atlanta.

This close observer declares that Atlanta is in many respects the most phenomenal city in the south. It has been made, not so much by its natural advantages, as by the spirit of its people. He says:

"You can't meet an Atlanta man at home, on the cars, at the seaside or anywhere else that he does not tell you that Peachtree street is the most beautiful residence street in the world-and he is not very far wrong-that Atlanta's climate is not the best in the south; that no other place is so healthy; that for business of any kind as well as for real estate investments it is unquestionably the most inviting place in America, and he will spend an hour to prove these things to you. He will tell you that 'no man ever lost a dollar in Atlanta dirt,' and he will make the proof so strong that you will at once become anxious to invest in Atlanta and settle down there for life. And if you do settle there everybody will do his best to keep you from ever regretting it." Something like this spirit, says Mr. Edmonds, is also found in Texas, where people think it is their first duty to praise their state and the town they live in. This local pride has enabled Texas to pledge by private subscription $300,000 for a world's fair exhibit, $150,000 of which was subscribed by a dozen men in Galveston.

In conclusion Mr. Edmonds says that if the Baltimoreans will imbue themselves with the Atlanta and Texas spirit, they will make their city talked of all over the world for its marvelous advancement, and in five years they will not be able to build houses fast enough to supply the demand. When outsiders talk about us in this fashion we should be more than ever determined to pull together for Atlanta. Let us put on our studying caps and decide what shall be our next progressive step. We are spending piles of money in building and in other improvements this year, but we can do still better. What public enterprise shall we next undertake? Gresham and the Third Party.

It is impossible to doubt the sincerity of Judge Gresham's recent letter, in which he declines to become a candidate for the presidential nomination to be made at Omaha.

The distinguished Indiana jurist says: I am hourly expecting news from the old farm that my brother is dead and that his family, with an aged mother, are left de-pendent upon me. My home has a mort-gage for purchase money. My vital ener-gies are impaired, the result of the wounds I received in the war. 1 am physically the qual to make the campaign. More than qual to make the campaign. More than that, it would mean another mortgage; that, to a man of my age and the claims upon me, is considerable. With the exception of your subtreasury scheme, which to me is visionary and impracticable, there is no difference between us, ruless it be that many entertain. tween us, unless it be that many entertain a stronger hope than I do that we are to escape a bloody revolution before this plutocracy of wealth surrenders. Doubtless the mortgage bothers Judge Gresham more than his old wound. A vigorous mortgage will drain a man's pocket, impair his vital energies, and reduce him to that despairing stage of pessimism in which man delights him not nor woman either. The intimation in this letter that the writer dreads a bloody reolution before we get through with the plutocrats shows that the judge's mind is morbidly apprehensive. If he felt more hopeful and endorsed the subtreasury

the democratic house.

But if they cannot get Gresham, how about Edward Bellamy? Mr. Bellamy believes in a benevolent socialism under which the government would run commerce and industry, abolishing poverty and supporting every citizen com reform on such a vast scale should com mend itself to the people's party, and we feel sure that it will receive favorable consideration at Omaha.

The gloom of Gresham and the vision ary optimism of Bellamy are equally to be shunned by practical men who are willing to take life as it is and make the best of it. We are going to have our periods of depression and flush times, our misfortunes and our blessings, but in the long run our lot will embrace more good than evil. Slowly but surely we are advancing, and there is plenty of sunshine in our lives if we will only look for it. This prosperous country will not be ruined by the politicians. Our industries and thrifty home owners and home seekers are willing to earn their living by the sweat of their brows, and they will steer clear of anarchy, on the one hand, and socialism on the other. Such reforms as they need will be won through honest and intelligent ballots, and the bayonets of centralization and the dollars of plutocracy will never prevail over the rights of the people. This is the hopeful view, and it is justified by the history of our past.

Human Nature Everywhere. The grand jury of Orange county, New York, reports that it cannot indict anybody for lynching the negro who assaulted Miss McMahon.

The lynching occurred in the crowded streets, and scores of the lynchers were recognized by hundreds. But the people approved the act, and no penal statute can reach the offenders.

The other day, in a New York court room, a young man shot and killed a prisoner who had just pleaded guilty to an assault upon the sister of the slayer. Of this murder The New York World says that no jury will punish it, as everybody will naturally try to excuse it as the act of a madman.

So it seems that in the north, as well as in the south, while good men deplore lynching and assassination, they will not interfere to punish men who have visited their swift but lawless justice upon the outlaws who are guilty of one exceptional crime. Human nature is about the same everywhere.

With good water, and the prospect of a stil etter article, when we get our supply from the Chattahoochee, we can afford to reproduce this paragraph from Editor Randall in The Augusta Herald: "Men who are reported as dying at the south of what is miscalled 'malaria, really lose their lives from drinking impure water. The south has lost many thousands of population and many millions of dollars by this misconception. The air of the south is pure. The water in many places is dangerous just as it is at the north."

GEORGIA POLITICAL NOTES.

Friday, July 1st, will be a red letter day in Dooly. There will be a great mass meeting of the citizens of the county on that day to nominate delegates to the gubernatorial, con-gressional and senatorial conventions which neet soon. This mass meeting is called for a very opportune time. A time farmers will be about through work and others do not have much business to look after, hence the people can turn out to this meeting. Hon. W. Y. Atkinson and other prominent speakers will attend and speak for democracy.

One of the most prominent men in Washing ton county, writing to The Sandersville Progress, advocates a compromise legislative ticket in that county—one that would be agree-able to democrats and the third party men. Commenting on this The Progress says:
"We do not believe that such a compromise would prove satisfactory. The democratic party has done all in its power to prevent a split in the white vote; the members of the people's party have withdrawn from our ranking the same property of the people's party have withdrawn from our ranking the same property of the people's party have withdrawn from our ranking the same property of the people's party have withdrawn from our ranking the same property of the people o people's party have withdrawn from our ranks in spite of protests against such a course. We are not to blame for their action. If they are in the majority, as they claim to be, why did they not remain in the democratic ranks and control the democratic policy? The democratic would have voted with them if they had not formed a new party, but as it is they will vote against them, just as they will against any party that opposes the principles and platform of democracy."

The Walton News says that if general expression of opinion can be taken for a guide, the people of Walton county desire to have one of their next legislators be a lawyer. They have come to recognize what the might well have discerned many years since that their interests would be safer to have a least one representative skilled in the law, so that their rights may be guarded from the encrestiment of unjust and unequal laws and that legislation intended to benefit the ccunty directly may be drafted intelligently and successfully pressed to its passage. The News adds: "Unquestionably now is the time for some worthy man of the legal profession. Let one good one run for the legisla-ture, and it is safe to say the people will see

As to my fitness and qualification for the office, I refer to my friends and farmer neighbors and those with whom I served in the Georgia legislature."

The Sandersville Progress notes a queer phase of politics in Washington county in the following:

following:

"We are informed that meetings are being held in the county at which an imported negro is advising our colored people to support the people's party candidates at the coming elections. He tells them that the success of the people's party means that wages will be increased to $1 per day. The furmers of this county who are now complaining of their poverty, should consider what will be the inevitable result of such talk as this. Let no promises be made that cannot be fulfilled. It will be better to start the old 'forty acres and a mule' story, than to promise them wages which no southern farmer can pay."

Mr. R. A. Kelley, chairman of the people's party in Washington county, is a delegate to the national convention that meets in Omaha Indian Springs, Ga., and from there will start on his western trip. He says that the people's party of Washington county will hold a mass meeting at the courthouse on Thursday, July 28th, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the legislature.

The Clarkston correspondent of The Lithonia New Era says that the people of that section have a yardstick to apply to all candidates for the legislature. The said yardstick is as follows:

"Are you willing to help remedy the damnable collecting laws of our state? Are you willing to help repeal or otherwise decrease the awful expenditures in pensions in our state? Will you do all you possibly can for the uneducated of your state and have a school district made at Clarkston, Ga., say two miles each way and empower he with two miles each way and empower us with the right to assess all property inside the limit and to levy tax sufficient for a good school support?"

"There can't be any truth in the charge they have against Bates," said Detective Shackelford yesterday. "I happen to know that Bates has been at work on an incendiary firecase up there which implicated some of the most prominent people, and it is claimed that this was the immediate reason for the arrest of the detective on a trumped up charge. Bates is a perfect gentleman, quiet and unassuming. I can't believe that he can possibly be guilty of such a thing as horse stealing, or any other crime, for that matter."

Mr. Bates's brother is even more positive. He left last night for Shelbyville, determined that his brother shall have fair play. He says he has the proof to show who are implicated in the incendiary cases, and that Scott Bates was thrown into jail because he, too, had these proofs, and the guilty persons were afraid of him.

They Get Their Diplomas from the Atlan Law School.

The Atlanta Law school held its annual commencement exercises in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association last night.

The exercises were opened at 8 o'clock by some remarks by Mr. Hamilton Douglas, the dean.

A violin solo, by Mr. Natorp Blumenfeld, followed. He was very loudly applauded by the crowded house. The selection rendered was the beautiful "Serenade Andalouse."

Mr. C. J. Haden, orator of the class Mr. C. J. Haden, orator of the class, then made his address on "The Heir at Law." Mr. Haden possessed a rare talent for speaking and bids fair to make himself a name among the speakers of Georgia. Mr. William C. Rehm followed with Rubenstein's piano solo, "Barcarolle." Hon. W. T. Moyers, orator of the evening, delivered his address in his usual pleasing manner.

Among other things, he said:

If this audience and these ceremonies faile to suggest it, my very strong affection for th subject would involve me this evening in discussion of The Young Lawyer; not in discussion of the young Lawyer; not in an extende discussion of The Young Lawyer; not in a deep character study, not in an extended analysis of the man or his methods; I would simply look at his striking characteristics and talk about them in a gossipy way.

Of matters commonplace there is nothing more unaccountrible than the misunderstanding of the lawyer by the layman. Mingling in daily social it tercourse with all, shaping all ing of the lawyer by the layman. Mingling in daily social intercourse with all, shaping all manner of business, working without preterse at concealment, guided by a chart presented to be known of all, his work always publicly reviewed by a censor, the lawyer is ever to the public the man of mystery. The old alchemist in his cave, with drugs and futures and vapors, or the astrologer reading the censtellations at midnight, was not, by the gapit, grustics of the times, more misunderstood. A great poet sketches nim with horns and hofs, a master of prose paints his as a "human eel" with serpent fangs; and the dramatists have dressed him variously from striped suits to cap and bells.

These things I may without impropriety, claim. If every man with a grievance could plead his own cluse every roof in the land would cover a couricuse and every treasury wild be banktupt. The lawyer not only pleads for right in the laner chamber, he stands with drawn sword before the temple of justice. The confidential friend and custodian of the family henor; he robs no man of his ewe lamb; the universal father-confessor, he betrays no scorets; his lips are sealed while his cars and heart are open to all troubles; the world's financial agent and cashier, he does not fice the reelm; the public trustee, no orphan weeps for nis patrimony; the general commanding a citadel, ever sought by the shave defender to the last unpurchased and unpurchasable. Lord Clive said, in justification of the charge of corruption, while governor general of India: "When I reflect upon my opportunities, I am amazed at my moderation." Consider the responsibilities, the opportunities and the ter pistions of the profession, and you will wonder that so few of its votaries fall.

Mr. Blumenfeld again, enchanted the autility of the charge of corruption of the profession.

Mr. Blumenfeld again enchanted the au-dience with a violin solo, "Faust Fantasy." Dr. T. S. Powell of the board of trus-tees them delivered diplomas to the follow-

OTHER NEWS OF A SOCIAL NATURE.

A lowlier weading neyer occurred in St. Fhilip's church than was solemnized y-sterday in the ruptials of Miss Peart Broyles and Mr. Lloyd R. Parks.

The popularity of the young people and the prominence of their respective families, made it for days in advance the talk of the social world, and long before the hour arrived for the ceremony yesterday the beautiful church was crowded with spectators.

The altar and pulpit were exquisitely decorated with palms and other beautiful plants, while the chancel was literally covered with spring flowers. It presented a rare and exquisite picture and feasted the eyes of the large gothering until the bridal party arrived. The ushers were Messrs. W. W. Orr, Smith Pickett, W. F. Johnson, Charles Walcott and Moses Harper. Mr. R. R. Wood acted as the best man.

There were twelve bridesmalds, and for personal beauty and elegance of costume, they have never been surpassed by any wedding that has occurred in Atlanta.

They were Miss Gene West, Miss Clifford Gray, of Waynesboro; Miss Fannie Divine, Miss Annie Tidwell, Miss Ialile Slaton, Miss May Belle Pendieton, Miss Annie Adair, Miss Phoebe Ellis, Miss Small, Miss Sanders, of Gainesville, and Miss Burrows, of Columbus. Miss Mattic Slaton acted as maid of honor.

They were charmingly attired in snow white gowns, and were dainty white slippers. They entered the church one by one, and gracefully

A MURDERER CAUGHT.

Will Mitchell, the Murderer of Joe Elliott, Caught After Three Years.

Three years ago four negroes had a quarrel at a picnic at West End, which ended by one of the negroes being shot dead.

The negro was Joe Elliott, a young negro of good reputation. Two of the men implicated in the murder were caught. The parts they had played in the tragedy were not important, the man who had done the shooting making good his escape.

The two negroes who were captured were tried and given good sentences in the chaingang, while Will Mitchell, the principal defendant in the murder case, was at lib erty. Will Mitchell was a desperate negro, and he made threats against the officers and swore that he would never be taken alive. The officers who knew the negro's desperate character knew that it would not be an easy job to catch the murderer. He was searched for everywhere, but he could not be found.

The search had long since been abandoned and Will Mitchell was thought to be gone for good.

gone for good.

Yesterday afternoon a negro walked into Waits's bar on Peters street and called for waits s par on Peters street and called for a drink.

Mr. Andy Waits, who stood behind the bar, thought he recognized in the negro before him Will Mitchell, the murderer of Joe Elliott, who had been at liberty since committing the crime. As the negro drank the whisky set before him Mr. Waits watched him and became sure he was the right man. As the negro started to walk out Mr. Waits covered him with a pistol and told him to throw up his hands.

The negro, taken by surprise, had to do as he was bid. He was searched and a leg gun was found in his pockets. He acknowledged that he was the man wanted and Mr. Waits conducted him to the police station.

INVESTIGATING MENTAL SCIENCE.

Chief of Police Connolly has been in vestigating a case which carried him into fields new to him. Usually, his work has to do with crimin-Als, but not so in this story.

Mental science is the very absorbing subject that has been occupying his attention lately.

Connolly has been making is a very pathetic as well as interesting story.

About ten days ago, a gentleman, recently from the north, called on Chief Connolly and asked him to make the investigation. He stated that he had a friend in Illinois he stated that he had a friend in Illinois who had a blind daughter. The young lady was very brilliant, highly educated, and, before losing her eyesight, was very attractive personally. Her parents had done all in their power to restore their daughter's eyesight. They had spent a great deal of money on her but the skilled con-deal of money on her, but the skilled ocu-lists who had treated her eyes had all failed to bring back the light to them.

She remained sightless.
In some way, she heard of Mrs. Helen Wilmans, of Atlanta, who was a strong advocate of mental science. Some one told the poor girl that Mrs. Wilmans could re-store her eyesight, if she would submit to

The girl, upon whom so much money had been expended to restore her lost sight, jumped at this as a drowning man jumps at a straw. All else had failed. She believed ind out something about her mental science doctrine.

She was anxious to come at once to Atlanta, and try the mental science remedy. Her parents demurred. They were doubtful about it, yet they were anxious to have their daughter cured.

They got the gentleman who called on Chief Connolly to come here and investigate the standing of Mrs. Wilmans, and find out something about her mental science described.

"The poor girl's parents," said the gentleman to Chief Connolly, "are anxious to do all for their daughter that they can. But they have heard many stories about Mrs. Helen Wilmans. I now learn that she is Mrs. Helen Wilmans-Post."

Chief Connolly promised to investigate the mental science business, and he did, with the assistance of Detective Cason.

A day or so ago, he made his report to the Chicago gentleman. Mrs. Helen Wilmans was the wife of Mr. C. C. Post, the third party leader, he reported, and had for some time been a strong believer in mental science. How effective her mental science method had been in curing disease or bodily ills he did not know. As for the standing of Mrs. Wilmans-Post, it was good.

CARMENCITA AT D'BIVE'S.

The Queen of Dancers Continues to Crowd the House and Please.

Few companies ever played in DeGive's

The proportion of ladies was larger than usual, and looking at it from the boxes and the stage, the picture was a rare one.

Indeed it is doubtful if Carmencita herself, since she has been in America, has danced before an audience made up so largely of members of her own sex. It is very certain that there was never such an au-dience at the house where she has been engaged for the last two years—Koster & The matinee afforded the young ladies an opportunity to see the famous dancer and Matinee audiences are not much given to Matinee audiences are not much given to applause, but yesterday's was generous enough in that respect. "Girofle-Girofla" was repeated and its presentation was thoroughly satisfactory. Gautier and the Spanish students won fresh laurels, but the event, of course, was Carmencita's appearance. She were one of her favorite costumes, black and yellow. Indeed, these used to be her favorite colors. Her dancing delighted the spectators and she was twice recalled before the curtain went down, and her reappearance was demanded after the curtain fell. In response to the continued applauses she stepped out, bowed and threw kisses to her admirers.

Last night she came in between the second and third acts of "Boccaccio." The moment she appeared the house broke into a round of applause. This Carmencita acknowledged with bows and gracious smiles. Her magnetism is peculiarly strong and her smile is infectious. She has an arch manner and every eye follows her every step and movement. Those who are near enough to the stage to look into the wings cannot fail to notice that all the disengaged members of the company and the stage hands, too, are standing around eagerly watching the senorita. She dances like some wild young animal full of life. There is an abandon in her dancing which is almost fierce at times. And it is that abandon which moves the men. They catch the spirit of it and invariably respond in unrestrained demonstration. The swimming voluptuousness of her gait sets the senses recling. Her facial expressions abandon which moves the men. They catch the spirit of it and invariably respond in unrestrained demonstration. The swimming voluptuousness of her gait sets the senses recling. Her facial expressions change with the strains of the music. The flashes of her dark, refulgent eyes are like sparks of fire on the combustible breasts even of the withered, and set them in a flame. The luster of those eyes rivals the gems which sparkle on her snowy neck. Carmencita wore last night a costume of blue covered with a luxury of silver ornaments. Her daintiest dancing is on the third recall, when she appears in high-heeled shoes. Her steps are lighter then and her dance is a poem of grace and rollicking good nature.

Gauticr's dencing and magical manipulations of her skirt pleased both the matinee and the night audiences. She seemed even more of a favorite at the matinee than at any time before. She has a manner which is pleasing and irresistible.

The company of Spanish students played their stringed instruments without a discord and received ovations at both performances.

low prisoners seemed to give the curious prisoner a fiendish delight. At every word of remonstrance he grew worse, and pounded only the harder.

The prisoner was blind, and was almost deaf. His sightless eyes gave the man a repulsive appearance and when he laughed at his music, the expression of his face was indescribable.

Yesterday afternoon Policeman Harper found this unique customer wandering around the union depot carrying a small music box under his arm. A small boy was with him, and the blind man was cursing the youth in the most approved fashion. The blind man was believed to be drunk; he talked loud and attracted a great deal of attention. He would not answer any questions, saying that he was deaf. The boy said that he had come with the blind man from Macon.

The sightless musician was locked up and appeared very meek for several hours. Then he began his beating on the cell, creating the most unearthly music. After sone difficulty his stick was wrested from him, and enraged at the loss of his stick he ran bout his cell, cursing and yelling at the top of his voice. He pulled a dangerous-looking knife from his pocket, which he flourshed above his head, threatening to cut the heart out of any one who entered his cell. All night he held to his knife, threatening.

The man told the story of his life, as he stood, knife in hand, leaning against his cell.

His name was John Harper and he lived in Walker county up to a few years ago, and there he was prosperous. His wife still lives there. A red-hot iron, flying from a blacksmith's hands, cost him one of his eyes. The uninjured eye began to inflame and to save it he came to Atlanta for treatment.

Just as the coal chute was reached the brakeman who stood gazing back down the track in the opposite direction from which the train had come saw something which looked like the mangled form of a man.

Conductor Levi Hollingsworth and his crew went back to the spot and found the negro's body. No one could recognize him. Some one present said that the boy was stealing a ride on the train, and in passing along over the train he fell between the cars.

The dead negro was about sixteen years of age, and is thought to be a stranger here.

An inquest will be held today.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

two Men from Butts County Held Up Near

Macon, Ga., June 29.-(Special.)-A genuine case of highway robbery and attempted murder was reported at police headquarters tonight. Nathaniel and John Henry Johnson are two brokers from Jackson, Butts county, now in attendance on the United States court. The boys met up today with some toughs and boys met up today with some toughs and tonight were lured into the woods and the youngest, John Henry, held up at the pistol's point and made to deliver his money. It seems that the younger one was led off first and under the belief that he was following his brother, Nathaniel was induced to follow into the lonely outskirts in the lower part of the lover. For the party for him his suspicious lonely outskirts in the lower part of the city. Fortunately for him, his suspicions were aroused and he drew his knife almost at the same moment the four men attacked him. They struck him over the head with a billy and slashed at him with their knives. He kept his head, however, and ran. His cries of murder the second rate, who made of the statement of the second rate. alarmed the scoundrels who made off.

At police headquarters the younger brother turned up and the meeting of the two boys was affecting. Each one believed that the other had been murdered. They can identify their assailants. The police believe that they can lay their hands on the right parties.

The Grand Jurors Assums the Righte of the Electors.

Macon, Gal, June 29.—(Special.)—The spring-term grand jury of Bibb county concluded its labors this afternoon, and brought in its general presentment. It was not a lengthy document, but contained a number of matters of importance to the county. Probably the most important of these was the recommendation that the county commissioners be elected by the grand jury instead of by the people. If, therefore, the law providing that two such recommendations by two successive grand juries establishes the method of elections in the county. Bibb's electors will not have any general voice in the next election of the board.

The jury advised that the jail be enlarged, and that the jailer be given an assistant. They made a number of minor recommendations, and scored the county commissioners countly because they had the Electors.

GREAT INSTITUTION FOR THE SOUTH

The Southern Live Stock Insurance Con pany has been organized in this city, and s now ready for business.

The citizens of Atlanta, realizing that is now ready for business.

The citizens of Atlanta, realizing that such an institution was a necessity in the southern states, have started this company with ample capital, a splendid board of directors, and backed by a list of stockholders that know no such word as fall. There is no place in the south where better inducements have been offered for such an institution than in Georgia. The fact that there is so much fine stock in this state, and that the people are giving their attention more and more each year to stock raising, and that there was no home company in which insurance could be placed, all led to the organization of the Southern Live Stock Insurance Company.

In speaking in reference to its organization, it must be remembered that the most prominent business men of Atlanta and of Georgia are backing the institution, not only with their time, advice and energy, but with their money. The company has a capital stock of $50,000, and the people who take policies on their stock may have the assurance that the losses will be promptly paid, and their obligations will be liquidated in the shortest possible time. This is an age of insurance, and there is none more timely or used to a better advantage than live-stock insurance.

The plan adopted by this company contains all the good features of all live-stock associations of the country. It combines safety with equity at moderate prices, and such as will afford proper security to the insured. Loss of live stock by disease or accident is of frequent occurrence, as is verified by the experience of all owners, and if a company, sufficiently strong financially, can assist the owner to carry the risk of his stock, it will be a great benefit to him. This is the object of this company, and, after a thorough examination, you will find that it is amply prepared to carry out its purposes.

Business men insure their houses, their furniture and their goods that cannot die.

and, after a thorough examination, you will find that it is amply prepared to carry out its purposes.

Business men insure their houses, their furniture and their goods that cannot die, and will last longer than a generation. This being true, how much more businesslike it is to insure fine stock that must of necessity die at some time.

There is in all probability over a half million dollars' worth of stock in Atlanta today that should be insured, and it would be good business, on the part of their owners, to have policies on them. There is no sentiment in insurance, it is a plain, business matter. The payment of the premium on your live stock is an investment which insures you against loss.

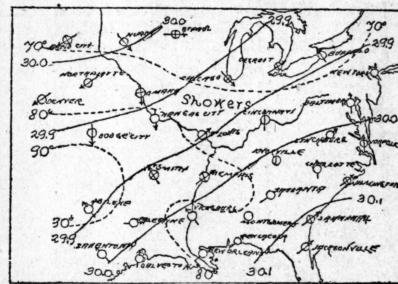

The Southern Live Stock company is now ready for business. In fact, it is already placing policies. It wants good agents throughout the country. Experienced men, especially those who have some knowledge of stock, who would like to connect themselves with this company, can do so.

Governor W. J. Northen heads the list. He is a firm believer in fine stock, and has been largely instrumental in the organization of this company.

There are many live-stock insurances companies in the north and west, and, while not much is heard of them in this part of the country, they take a large amount from the south every year. The Southern Live Stock Insurance Company, with its present board of directors, can save that money and keep it here in the south. It is already a success, and, before many months, will be one of the biggest institutions of its kind in the United States.

CITY NOTES.

Chief Joyner has had a great many I-told-you-so callers the past few days—people who have been predicting that he would meet with some sort of accident—and the chief didn't like it much. The fact is, that accident in which Cap figured wasn't nearly as much of an accident ngured wasn't nearly as much of an accident as was at first reported. True, one of the axles of the little red wagon did break, but neither the chief nor his driver was thrown out, and beyond the damage to the wagon there was no harm done. The horse was stopped at once and Chief Joyner hailed the chemical and went on to the fire.

The Associated Press reports of the Chicago convention stated that it was Hon. Fleming duBignon who made the motion to adjourn the night of the nomination. That was a mistake. The motion was made by Mr. Vandiver.

The proportion of ladies was larger than usual, and looking at it from the boxes and the stage, the picture was a rare one.

Indeed it is doubtful if Carmencita herself, since she has been in America, has danced before an audience made up so largely of members of her own sex. It is very certain that there was never such an au-dience at the house where she has been engaged for the last two years—Koster & opportunity to see the famous dancer and they did not lose it.

Matinee audiences are not much given to applause, but yesterday's was generous enough in that respect. "Girofle-Girofla" was repeated and its presentation was thoroughly satisfactory. Gautier and the Spanish students won fresh laurels, but the event, of course, was Carmencita's appearance. She wore one of her favorite costumes, black and yellow. Indeed, these used to be her favorite colors. Her dancing delighted the spectators and she was twice recalled before the curtain went down, and her reappearance was demanded after the curtain fell. In response to the continued applause she stepped out, bowed and threw kisses to her admirers.

Last night she came in between the second and third acts of "Boccaccio." The moment she appeared the house broke into a round of applause. This Carmencita acknowledged with bows and gracious smales. Her magnetism is peculiarly strong and her smile is infectious. She has an arch manner and every eye follows her every step and movement. Those who are near enough to the stage to look into the wings cannot fail to notice that all the disengaged members of the company and the stage hands, too, are standing around eagerly watching the senorita. She dances like some wild young animal full of life. There is an abandon in her dancing which is almost fierce at times. And it is that abandon which moves the men. They catch the spirit of it and invariably respond in unrestrained demonst ation. The swimming voluptuousness of her gait sets the senses reeling. Her facial expressions change with the strains of the music. The flashes of her dark, refulgent eyes are like sparks of fire on the combustible breasts even of the withered, and set them in a flame. The luster of those eyes rivals the gems which sparkle on her snowy neck. Carmencita wore last night a costume of blecking good nature.

Carmencita is a wonderful drawing card.
People have had to stand at every performance since she came, and the advance sale keeps up. Many are coming in from the

They had spent a great daughter's eyesight. deal of money on her, but the skilled ocu-lists who had treated her eyes had all failed to bring back the light to them.

She remained sightless.
In some way, she heard of Mrs. Helen Wilmans, of Atlanta, who was a strong advocate of mental science. Some one told the poor girl that Mrs. Wilmans could restore her eyesight, if she would submit to the mental science treatment.

The girl, upon whom so much money had been expended to restore her lost sight, jumped at this as a drowning man jumps at a straw. All else had failed, She beheved that mental science was all that remained to restore her sight.

She was anxious to come at once to Atlanta, and try the mental science remedy. Her parents demurred. They were doubtful about it, yet they were anxious to have their daughter cured.

They got the gentleman who called on Chief Connolly to come here and investigate the standing of Mrs. Wilmans, and find out something about her mental science doctrine.

find out something about her mental science doctrine.

"The poor girl's parents," said the gentleman to Chief Connolly, "are anxious to do all for their daughter that they can. But they have heard many stories about Mrs. Helen Wilmans. I now learn that she is Mrs. Helen Wilmans-Post."

Chief Connolly promised to investigate the mental science business, and he did, with the assistance of Detective Cason.

A day or so ago, he made his report to the Chicago gentleman. Mrs. Helen Wilmans was the wife of Mr. C. C. Post, the third party leader, he reported, and had for some time been a strong believer in mental science. How effective her mental science method had been in curing disease or bodily ills he did not know. As for the standing of Mrs. Wilmans-Post, it was good.

Back to Chicago and to the blind girl the report has gone, and it will gladden her lonely heart.

In a few days a poor, blind girl will most likely come to Atlanta in the hope of having her eyesight restored by Mrs. Wilmans-Post's mental science treatment.

A GREAT INSTITUTION FOR THE SOUTH

directors, and backed by a list of stockholders that know no such word as fail. There is no place in the south where better inducements have been offered for such an institution than in Georgia. The fact that there is so much fine stock in this state, and that the people are giving their attention more and more each year to stock raising, and that there was no heme company in which insurance could be placed, all led to the organization of the Southern Live Stock Insurance Company.

In speaking in reference to its organization, it must be remembered that the most prominent business men of Atlanta and of Georgia are backing the institution, not only with their time, advice and energy, but with their time, advice and energy, but with their money. The company has a capital stock of $50,000, and the people who take policies on their stock may have the assurance that the losses will be liquidated in the shortest possible time. This is an age of insurance, and there is none more timely or used to a better advantage than live-stock insurance.

The plan adopted by this company contains all the good features of all live-stock associations of the country. It combines safety with equity at moderate prices, and such as will afford proper security to the insured. Loss of live stock by disease or accident is of frequent occurrence, as is verified by the experience of all owners, and if a company, sufficiently strong financially, can assist the owner to carry the risk of his stock, it will be a great benefit to him. This is the object of this company, and, after a thorough examination, you will find that it is amply prepared to carry out its purposes.

Business men insure their houses, their founces, their founces and their country.

Business men insure their houses, their furniture and their goods that cannot die, and will last longer than a generation. This being true, how much more business-like it is to insure fine stock that must of recognitive die at some time.

like it is to insure fine stock that must of necessity die at some time.

There is in all probability over a half million dollars' worth of stock in Atlanta today that should be insured, and it would be good business, on the part of their owners, to have policies on them. There is no sentiment in insurance, it is a plain, business matter. The payment of the premium on your live stock is an investment which insures you against loss.

The Southern Live Stock company is now ready for business. In fact, it is already placing policies. It wants good agents throughout the country. Experienced men, especially those who have some knowledge of stock, who would like to connect themselves with this company, can do so.

Arrows fly with the wind. Dotted lines traverse regions of equal temperature. Figures at the ends show the degree of heat. Unbroken lines traverse regions of equal barometric pressure. Figures at the end of an unbroken line, as 29.9, 80.0, 80.1, etc., show that the air along the line if high enough to balance that many inches of mercury. Areas of high pressure are accompanied by a clear atmosphere, and "lows" by a moist air, clouds and rain. Mr. D. G. Wylie, for many years connected with the Western and Atlantic railroad, and now superintendent of the public works of this city, is a splendid man on the board.

The secretary, Mr. Robert Dohme, is president of the Dohme & Cornigan Grocery Company, and is the right man in the right place.

As will be seen from the foregoing, the personnel of the board is the equal of that of any corporation in the state, and the people who entrust their stock into the hands of this company may have the assurance that the losses will be promptly paid, and all obligations liquidated in the shortest possible time.

This is a home institution. It should receive the encouragement an upport of Atlanta and the people of the outh. The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock VEW YORK, June 29 .- The proportious of stock speculation continue steadily to dwindle, and even though from time to time a few stocks develop a certain amount of animation, with comparatively wide fluctuations, the wholly professional nature of trading robs the movements of significance. The market as a whole was duller and more uninterestif today than that of any day this year and, side Distillers, only Chicago Gas scored a sa no more than the smallest fractions. St. ul. Burlington, Reading and Chicago Gas some the leading stocks, dullaess and stagnan settling over the remainder of the mais's, and while there was little pressure to sell, utter absence of demaid permitted a slow siding of quotations, which, with the lower ering, place the list on a lower plane than at of last night, and there was no recovery rough the day, though a few stocks railled the level of opening agures in late dealess. The close was quist and arm, generally scretching under last night's prices, though the losses exterded to 7-8 per cent. The only vance of note was that of Luke Shore, 11-8 per cent. J. S. Hache & Co.'s Stock Letter.

By Private Wire to A. P. Youngblood.

NEW YORK, June 29—The market today was again exceedingly narrow and St. Paul and Chicago Gas were about the only stocks attracting attention. St. Paul declined on what appeared like a long stock and Gas was weak on selling by Chicago of about 5,000 ahares. On the decline the Wormsers bought a good deal around Ste. These little drives seem to take periodically in gas, as there are several parties working the stock, and one tries to get the better of the other. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy's statement for May was better than had been expected. The street looked for a net decrease of $400.000 but the statement only for a not decrease of $400,000, but the statement only showed $551,000. On this there was a little stock covered, and the general market closes with a fractional rally. No gold is to go c t by tomorrow's steamer, but we understand a couple million will probably go saturday. We do not look for an increase in business turday. We do not look til after the 4th of July.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular NEW YORK, June 29.—Liverpool was 1-04d lower than yesterday by the time our market had opened this morning. The result was a decline of from 2 to 3 points at the opening here. This was gradually recovered, however, under the accession of buying orders predicated upon the belief that the antisver, under the accession of buying orders predicated upon the belief that the antipotion law is no longer an imminent probability and by 1 o'clock prices here were from 2 to 3 points better than yesterday. In Liverpool the early loss was recovered and the close was very steady at last night's prices. Spot sales are 7,000 bales. In Manchester, yarns and cloths are reported duil and irregular. The remarkable strength of the American otton market during the last few days is innost entirely the result of the gradually essening apprehension with regard to the anti-option bill. The delay of the senate in acting upon it leads to the hope that it cannot be passed, and the effect upon the markets is obvious. Should the probability of its passage become again immediate the consequences would be disastrous to the producers who are the very class whom it was hoped the bill would benefit. Crop prospects as reported in this morning's weekly government bulletin are hardly so favorable. We quote as follows: North Carolina—Excessive rainfall, injuring lowland crops. South Carolina—Cotton improved in some localities, but lack of sunshine, and excessive rain in others, have injured the plant, causing it to shed. Georgia—All crops greatly improved. Alabama—Too much rain for cotton. Mississippi—Cotton injured by rust and blight. Louisiana—Excessive rains have damaged cotton. Texas—Cotton generally clean and healthy, but very irregular in size. Arkansas—Cotton still reported bad stands, fully two weeks inte.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, June 29—There was not much in any of news, but a feeling of firmness pervaded. Most of the pits during the early part of the session, though there was some weakness later in the day which in part again was lost. Near the close, however, everything took a turn up and the close was generally strong. The reason for the strength in wheat was not very ctear. July opened at 78½ against 79½ at the on yesterday, advanced steadily to 78½, weakened to 78¢, firmed up at the close and closed at 78½.

Corn was strong and higher early, but subsequently lost most of the improvement. July started unchanged at 58½ and advanced to 51½, but higher prices tempted sollers and checked buying, theu reacted to 51c. The market remained weak till just before the close, where it folt the effects of the general strength and rallied to and closed at 51½c.

In easly dealings oats went up sharply on the strength in corn and discouraging crop reports, but like other grains failed to hold an advance. The market grew excited on free buying near the close and closed strong at ½@10 higher.

Provisions sympathized with the early strength in grains and made good advances, but at the top some longs attempted to realize profits and the market went off sharply. Later there was a rally and the close shows small gains.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Very little change is noted in the markets abroad. The demand is fairly good, rather a firm market for cash or early delivery. Nearly all the reports that come from the wheat fields in this country are very favorable. Harvesting seems to be progressing very finely in the more early districts. The local trade was light but the market displayed considerable strength. Trading in corn was less active. The market continues strong. Eastern Iowa, a large portion of Illinois. Indiana, Michigan and a small portion of Ohio continue to send very bad, reports concerning corn and oats. The trade is becoming quite active in oats and reports of the growing crops appear to be almost universally bad. This strengthens the price and stimulates speculation.

The rye fields look very fine from the rail roads and at a distance, but upon closer examination of numerous fields the reports are generally unfavorable.

The domestic demand for all kinds of hog products continues good. Foreigners were buying a little more than they have been for the past few days. We believe any advance from the present prices will have a teadency to check the demand and increase the supply.

The trading in grain, provisions and cotton.

dency to check the demand and interest the supply.

The trading in grain, provisions and cotton would undoubtedly be very large were it not for the pending legislation. Capital, which is nearly always conservative, is waiting. It is a great misfortune to the people of this country, but the power of recuperation of the Americans surpasses anything ever known before in the history of the world and we will come out of this as we have out of all other troubles—with flying colors. The politician is a terror—his deeds are cruel, but like all other evil things, cannot survive very long.

FACTS WORTH CONSIDERING of the Betrigerator, and in utilizing all the cold air.

Dry atmosphere and uniform temperature can be obtained only by a perfect circulation of the air in the Refrigerator, and its condensation in the ice chamber.

The Alaska is constructed upon strictly scientific principles, by which low temperature and dryness of air are naturally and inevitably obtained.

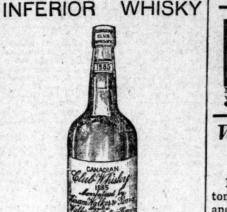

The Alaska possesses a provision chamber free from odor.

The Alaska produces better results with less ice than any other refrigerator.

The Alaska is a dry-air refrigerator, and the best one ever patented.

e Is a General Desire to Know Why He Objects.

New York, June 29.—(Special.)—Wall reet has made up its mind very positively at Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s acceptance the invitation extended them by a comittee of security holders to undertake the organization of the dichmond and West oint Terminal was a foregone conclusion. onsequently when the great banking house sued its formal letter of declination yested morning it came like a clap of under out of a clear sky to the habitues the stock exchange district. All the erminal's securities had a sharp decline hen Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s determination came known, but a sharp rally took ace when the reason for their refusing came generally understood. The letter ddressed to W. E. Strong, chairman of the curity holders' committee, was promptly surged by the vericence was primary to the control of the course of the co ddressed to W. E. Strong, chairman of the curity holders' committee, was promptly curred by the various news agencies and hereby got quick and wide circulation. It as critically analyzed and seemed to be declination that came not on account of my difficulty in the way of the reorganization per se, but because of what Drexel, forgan & Co. considered a serious hinrance, occasioned by the recent action and resent attitude of Mr. W. P. Clyde.

When Mr. Clyde recently was instrumental in putting both the Richmond and Danille and the Richmond Terminal compates in the hands of receivers, the general upression was that these proceedings were natituted with a view to facilitating any organization that Drexel, Morgan & Co. alght propose and in no sense in opposition anization that Drexel, Margan & co.
propose and in no sense in opposition nch programme. Drexel, Morgan & themselves inclined to that opinbut in order to be perfectly sure of facts they conferred with Mr. Clyde, sining to him that they could not think andertaking the reorganization unless they were placed in absolute control of the properties to be reorganized. To this end they desired to know of Mr. Olyde if he would be willing to put them in control of the suits which he had instituted and on which his applications for receivers had been granted by the United States courts. For reasons satisfactory to himself Mr. Clyde did not see fit to accede to this proposition, and on that and that only is based Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s letter declining to undertake the reorganization. It does not seem at all unreasonable that Drexel, Morgan & Co. should desire the absolute control of all litigation involving the properties embraced in the proposed reorganization.

It would be hard for Mr. Clyde to ex-plain how himself or any other creditors at interest could suffer by having Samuel Spencer as receiver instead of the gentle-

Spencer as receiver instead of the gentlemen who were recently appointed.

Without meaning the slightest reflection on them, it does seem that Mr. Spencer, owing to his relations with Drexel, Morgan & Co., and likewise his experience and ability as a practical railroad man, would serve the interests of all concerned in the best possible way.

General Sam Thomas is said to have taken this view of it and to have expressed his perfect willingness to have Mr. Spencer substituted as receiver for the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia instead of Colonel McGhee and Mr. Fink, who were appointed on General Thomas's application. It does seem a pity, indeed, that what promised to be the possible rehabilitation of these vast railroad properties and the successful re-establishment of their credit should all be thwarted. The security holders at large will be the sufferers in the end, for it looks now as though the entire system would be disintegrated and drift swiftly into general bankruptcy. M. J. V.

Expecting large travel to Cumberland.

An Extra Trip to Cumberland.

Expecting large travel to Cumberland, General Passenger Agent Sturgis, of the Cumberland route, announces that the steamers will make two trips from Brunswick to the island on Saturday. On the extra trip the steamer City of Brunswick will leave Brunswick at 7:45 o'clock p. m., just after the arrival of the East Tennessee's train from Atlanta. This allows the travelers to make the day trip from Atlanta to Cumberland without waiting over night at Brunswick. A low rate is given from Brunswick to the island for Saturday.

The World Moves.

The World Moves. Mr. Ed Kirby, city ticket agent of the East Tennessee, has returned from a trip to one of the mountains of Virginia. He got so deep into the mountains that no newspapers penetrated there. When he came out he found that the world had been making history. Cleveland had been nominated for several days and the East Tennessee was in the hands of receivers.

A New Railroad for Huntsville Huntsville, Ala., June 29.—(Special.)— Huntsville raised the required sum today, which secures a southern outlet in a railroad south, and work begins on the same

A Card from Mrs. Denck.

Editor Constitution: My attention has been called to a card signed by Mr. Harry E. Reeves in today's Constitution. In the absence from the city of my husband I desire to say only this: That the statement of the case in that card is not the correct one at all. I was conrelled to leave the house, where I had been boarding with Mr. Reeves's sister, on account of the constant turnoll in that family and of the ungentlemanly conduct of the man. To those who know Mr. Reeves, no further explanation is necessary. I want to add, however, that I have not been away from Atlanta and have had no idea of going, except for a few days to East Point, where I spent my last summer.

Without an to the Prestige and Advertisement Acquired by the Old Name-Like a Maiden's Name. ROUSING RALLY OF DEMOCRATS.

Trouble in the Camp Now-A Grand Rally Tomorrow Night. Tomorow night will be an eventful on r the democracy of Atlanta, A grand and rousing rally is that which the Young Men's Democratic League has arranged and every democrat in Atlanta will clamor for standing room at the capitol

Friday night,
Much has already been said in the newspapers about this meeting.

It is to be a ratification meting—a rally around the flagstaff of democracy to pledge anew the energy and support of every loyal democrat to the cause of the party and its democrat to the cause of the party and its undying principles.

Yesterday morning the committee appointed by the executive committee of the Young Men's Democratic League to select speakers made report to that body, and with a few changes it was adopted by the executive committee.

The speeches will be limited to fifteen minutes each, and a long list of well-known democratic leaders will be on the programme.

utes each, and a long list of well-known democratic leaders will be on the programme.

The speakers selected by the executive committee at its meeting yesterday morning are as follows:

Governor W. J. Northen, Hon. J. C. C. Black, of Augusta; Hon. Allen Fort, of Americus; Hon. R. W. Patterson. of Macon; Hon. J. W. Robertson, of Cornelia; Hon. F. G. duBignon, of Savannah; Hon. I. E. Shumate, of Dalton; Hon. L. F. Garrard, of Columbus; Hon. T. W. Rucker, of Athens; Hon. W. E. Wooten, of Albany; Hon. Albert H. Cox, Hon Hoke Smith, Hon. Evan P. Howell and Hon. B. J. Conyers, of Atlanta.

They are all eloquent orators, strong speakers, loyal democrats and fully capable of entertaining the crowds and doing much valuable service to democracy.

It is the purpose of the league to make this one of the grandest demonstrations ever before held in the history of the organization. They will spare no pains for the success of the occasion, and will give the democratic ticket, "Cleveland and Stevenson," such a send-off as will do their very hearts good as long as they live.

There have been differences in Atlanta, but tomorrow night will find no trace of it behind to mar the fair escutcheon of the unterrified democracy of the solid south.

The following committee has been appointed by the executive committee to make further preparations for the meeting, and to meet all the speakers from other cities at the trains that bring them into Atlanta:

President J. M. Slaton, chairman; Mr. C. S. Northen, Mr. W. C. Glenn, Mr. Hooper Alexander, Mr. A. W. Bealer, Mr. G. N. Hurtel, Mr. C. A. Reid, Mr. W. P. Hill.

They will see to it that everything necessary to be done for the success of the rally will be done.

There is no doubt but that the hall of the house of representatives will be packed to its utmost capacity tomorrow might. Every democrat is cordially invited to be present.

There is no doubt but that the hall of the house of representatives will be packed to its utmost capacity tomorrow night. Every democrat is cordially invited to be present. The speeches will all be good and a hearty ratification, indeed, will be that which the Atlanta democrats will give the democratic ticket.

President Toon exhibited specimens fully ripe of the Brown Turkey fig, and a King squash of immense proportions.

Mr. James Ormond, one of the "old guard" members, filled one table with six varieties of blackberries. The Wilson Early was voted the best.

It was agreed that separate days be set apart to discuss quinces, asparagus, celery, beets, canning, marketing fruit and vegetables and second crop of Irish potatoes. Next Wednesday will be devoted to the fall crop of Irish potatoes, and the Wednesday following to an exhibit of fruits and vegetables put up in jars. Committees are to be appointed on each different crop and report monthly the status of the crop.

Parties desirous of entering the tomato contest will leave their names with Mark W. Johnson. Considerable interest centered in the election of delegates to the State Agricultural Society. After some discussion the following were elected delegates: J. J. Toon, Charles Deckner, W. D. Beatle. Alternates—R. T. Nesbitt, D. Morrison, G. K. Pettus.

berland Presbyterian church, is in the city.

Dr. Bell has been in the city a day or so no business connected with his work. The Cumberland Presbyterian church owns some valuable property here, and Dr. Bell came here to look after it, and to look into the advisability of building a church of that faith in Atlanta.

He will probably report to the board of missions in favor of building a fine church here at once, as he considers this a fine field for the Cumberland Presbyterians.

There is no doubt but that the church will be built in a very short time. There are a great many former members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here who are anxious for the church to be built.

The church will probably be built this year.

Fourth of July Celebration.

Fourth of July Celebration.

The 4th of July will be duly celebrated by the colored population at Piedmont park.

Among the many attractions will be the prizes for the best brass band—first, $50; second, $25; third, $15; fourth, $10.

Bicycle races—First prize, man; $10; second, $5; lady, $10.

The entries up to date are six military companies, six brass bands, six fast race horses and ten baseball teams.

Excursion trains will be run from Chattanooga and other points in Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama. Governor Northen will review the troops at 12 o'clock. At 5 o'clock there will be a sham battle. Among the other entertainments to be introduced will be a balloon ascension, fireworks, a walking match (go-as-you-please), for which many entries have been made.

Dancing in the dining hall at 8:30 o'clock p. m., and last, but not least, a baby show, which promises to be a "howling" success. The admission will be only 25 cents to the park and 10 cents to the grand stand.

This will doubtless be a red lemonade day for the negroes of this city.

MRS. F. W. MILLER, Vice President,
MRS. M. J. MEDLOCK, Recording Secretary.

In the light and freshness of the classic discussion now raging over Atlanta's new-est and most brilliant suburb, it seems in-evitable that the name of Manchester, with its recking suggestions of trade, will be changed, and the name of Attica formally adopted at the christening of this royal infant of culture. fant of culture.

The change will involve some inconveniences, of which the company seems to be aware, and which are just now taking shape and form in the local discussion.

shape and form in the local discussion.

In the first place, the town of Manchester has had an extensive advertising under that name. It has also enjoyed great promise and popularity and widespread repute under that title. Its legal documents also have been drawn up in that name. These three considerations present an apparent objection to a change.

But the objection is only apparent, and there is practically a unanimous voice in favor of discarding Manchester at all hazards, and the majority sentiment is heartily in favor of Attica.

In answer to the first objection, it may be said that the recent gratuitous and interesting gossip about the possible change has linked Attica forever to the memory of the town called Manchester in this generation, and made Attica as widely—aye, much more widely—known than the original Manchester ever was. It is astonishing, to one who does not realize the scope and circulation of The Constitution's influence, to note how widely the discussion in these columns has carried the name and fame of this nobly planned community of schools. The directors inform us that they have had letters from every section of this state, and from distant states of the union, referring to the controversy and offering suggestions as to the name.

So that on the score of advertisement, the balance of vast advantage is on the

So that on the score of advertisement, the balance of vast advantage is on the side of Attica.

Of course, the same argument will apply to the element of avertisement. Of course, the same argument will apply to the element of prestige and popularity. All of this profitable commodity has been transferred from Manchester to Attica during the present run of comment, and the prestige of Manchester has fallen like Elijah's 'mantle, with a double emphasis upon the young Elisha of culture, which will hereafter probably bear the name of Attica.

will hereafter probably bear the name of Attica.

It is just as easy to make good the legal inconveniences in this matter as it is to handle the property of a maiden after her marriage. She has changed her name, and all her properties and possessions, with such others as she may acquire by marriage or endowment, belong to her just as easily and joyfully under her new name, with no other inconvenience than a scratch of the pen to make the change.

And for the convenience of any good friend who may have been absent or fast asleep during the momentous changes of her fortune, the charming little French explanative, nee, will make all things plain. her fortune, the charming little French explanative, nee, will make all things plain. And so with our young bride of culture, Attica. She is about to change her name for a better one. All her good qualities are preserved intact in the new title she will wear. All her friends she retains. All her prestige lingers. All her possessions are held; all her wide repute and promise heightened, and with new hopes and new aims and grand responsibilities she radiantly fronts the new future, and leaves with old friends her card—ATTICA, NEE MANCHESTER.

When the two teams met Monday, hattanooga had a margin, but that night, hen Montgomery came off victorious, the argin was much smaller, and Sullivan wied over the wire into Chattanooga's rs that the umpire had robbed him. Yesrday he refused to play two games, beuse two defeats meant to give up first ace in the race. But when Montgomery greed to pay two prices of admission, eddy could find no way out of it, and recently consented.

But now he wishes he hadn't done so. Chattanooga will open in Mobile today, hile Montgomery must meet Macon. Ontgomery has decidedly the hardest the on hand, and by Saturday night Chatmooga may be back in first place.

First Game.

First Game.

Jay Gould's wires went down and Billy Fowler could not detail the first inning, but a broad smile went all over his face as

'Atlanta made three and New Orleans

"Atlanta made three and New Orleans pothing."
Neither side scored in the second or hird, but in the fourth, after Atlanta had sone out, New Orleans reade three.
Dowie was stopped at first by McGann's nuck assist, but Schabel muffed Stouch's foul fly. Then Stouch drove a fly at Prescott who muffed it, too. J. Adams advanced Stouch a base by a clever hit, while Lacourage was given his base on balls. That filled the bases and Plock's hit a minute later sent Stouch and Adams ever the plate, Lacourage advancing to second, whence he went to third on a wild pitch. Earnmert struck out and Weber new out to Key.

Atlanta did nothing in the fifth, but in the sixth with made two.
Stouch flew out to Long. J. Adams was through out at first by Prescott but Lacourage for to second by McGann's wild throw to chim off at first and then went to third on a wild pitch and scored on another one just like it. Plock made a safe hit and then went to third on a wild throw to third on a wild throw bander one just like it. Plock made a safe hit and then went to third on a wild throw. Banmert's wo-bagger brought Plock home but Weber truck out.

Key made a hit and Schabel flew out a short. To ster made a two-bagger and they went third. McGann followed with the went third. McGann followed with the wo-bagger and Key and Foster scored. Colcology went third. McGann followed with the went out at first and Long struck out.

Campfield stepped into the box for Atlanta as Umpire Graves ordered the second game and Adams picked up the willow to fly out to Key. Smith got his first by McGann's wild throw but went out at second on Dowie's hit. Stouch went out at first.

Dowie muffed Long's flye giving him first. Long was sacrificed to second by Prescott. Porter's grounder to the pitcher was thrown' wild and Long scored, Porter going to second. Ardner hit over third base and got third. Key advanced them both by a long fly to right which Lacourage muffed. Porter came home on Schabel's hit to center but Schabel never got in.

In the second Atlanta got a blank and so did New Orleans, but in the third New Orleans made two.

Bammert flew out to Schabel but Crowell was given first and was advanced to second by Adams's hit over Ardner's head. Smith flew out to Ardner but Dowie's two-bagger scored Crowell and Adams. Stouch struck out.

Ardner opened with a hit and was sent to third by Key's long drive to right but was subsequently thrown out at the home plate. Schabel hit safe and Key went to third. Foster got his base on balls and McGann's clean hit scored Key and Schabel at the same time, giving Foster second. Campfield was fumbled by Stouch and in the play Foster scored but McGann went out at second. Long struck out.

Schabel went out at first. Foster flew out to short. McGann got first by Stouch's fumble and stole second. Campfield made a three-bagger and McGann scored. Long made a hit but was forced out at second by Prescott. This was in the eighth.

Adams flew out to Porter. Weber went out at first. Plock flew out.

NEW ORLEANS. R. BH. SH. PO. A. E.

ATLANTA.

The New Orleans Story. New Orleans, June 29.—(Special.)—Atlanta proved slayers today. In the first game they gave Colcolough bad support and lost, but in the second they braced up and played fine ball, easily defeating New Orleans, who could do very little with either of the pitchers, espe-cially Campfield. Atlanta earned five runs in the first game, hitting Weber hard; but Porter, McGann and the others played loosely at critical points and New Orleans took advantage of them with a dash and a vim which all died out before the second game. They Don't Agree.

The pon't Agree.

The reports that came to the baseball parlors yesterday don't agree with the official score sent in from New Orleans.

Atlantians could not understand why Colcolough was given credit for so many wild pitches and throws. That, however, seems to have been due to the fact that the telegraph operator in New Orleans didn't know the difference between a wild pitch and a passed ball see a bad throw and an error at the other end. The official score makes Colcolough's work decidedly better than that New Orleans telegraph operator's work.

Mobile, June 2.—(Special.)—Macon made it two out of three by taking today's game. Wittrock, Mobile's new twirler, was in the box and did excellent work, but the support by the balance of the team was wretched. Schmidt pitched a good game for Macon and was backed up well. The features were Frank's run andeatch of a fly and double play and York's eath in center. Chattanooga opens here tomorrow.

Sergeant Terry Is Complimented by Gate City Guard.

Gate City Guard.

The Gate City Guard yesterday presented to Quartermaster Sergeant George W. Terry a beautiful gold ring.

It was in recognition of the services rendered the company while at Camp Northen. The ring is exquisitely set with diamonds, and the upper part is an exact fac-simile of the company's badge.

It was presented in a neat speech by Captain Kendrick, and was received in a few well chosen words by Sergeant Terry.

The monthly drill of the company occurred last night, and the medal, after a warm contest, was awarded to Corporal Beck. Private Sam Askew and Private Myers contested with a close pull and stood respectively second and third.

the Old Book Store. The largest book and stationary deal ver made in Atlanta was consummated yesterday.

W. B. Burke, the Old Book Store man, bought the entire stock of the King Stationery Company, located on Mitchell street.

The stock is one of the largest and most varied in the city and contains everything in the book store line. It invoiced over five thousand dollars and is now being removed to the Old Book Store on Marietta street, where it will be tastefully displayed by Harry Grubb, that veteran in the book and stationery work.

J. C. Halle Prom J. C. Halle Promoted.

J. C. Halle is to be the Central's general passenger agent it is said. No official circular has been received containing the announcement, but it is understood that his appointment has been decided on. He is now the Central's agent at Columbus. He was formerly with the Richmond and Danville at Columbia, S. C. He has had experience in both branches of the traffic service and is said to be a promising railroad man.

The Teachers' Convention Paralyzes the Committee.

GETS BIGGER EVERY

essary-The Crowd Will Be Nearer Three Thousand Than Two.

The crowd of teachers is getting to Major R. J. Guinn, the redoubtable sec alajor R. J. Gimnn, the redoubtable secretary of the executive committee, is almost paralyzed by the shower of letters on his desk, and he is calling lustily for help. The crowd is going to be nearer three thousand than two, and the accommodations will have to be increased. It had been thought the hotels and boarding houses registered with the secretary would give ample accommodations and that part of the ple accommodations and that part of the work was considered closed. Much to the surprise of the committee the stream of letters continues to pour in, and now an es-timate of 2,000 teachers is not considered safe. The secretary says there will be 2,500 of them here and accommodations for at least that number are imperatively necessary. It is important that additional accommodations be registered with the secretary by noon today at the state school commissioner's office in the capitol. commissioner's office in the capitol.

There is nothing else hurting now but the money, and that is not hurting much. The finance committee, composed of Captain R. J. Lowry, Hon. A. L. King, Mr. E. P. Chamberlin, Mr. D. A. Beatle and Mr. Joseph Hirsch, is out with a list to raise $1,000, which will cover the expenses. They got several hundred dollars yesterday, and the list ought to be closed today. They have hardly found a man who didn't want an interest in the big convention, and their task ought to be an easy one the rest of the way.

The Chorus Rehearsal Tonight.

Mr. B. C. Davis, the musical director, asks The Constitution to announce that there will be a rehearsal of the chorus at 8 o'clock tonight at Browning hall in the Girls' High school building.

Mr. Davis announces that he will have a pleasant surprise in some fine vocal solos. He urgently requests that all who have already enlisted for the chorus or any who may be willing to take part come to the rehearsal tonight and bring their voices with them.
